Senate Falls Behind In Drive to Adjourn

Early Session Called to Work On Excise Tax Revision Bill; Defeat Whisky, Oil Amendments

BY JOE HALL
Washington—The senate fell behind in its work today, slowing congress' drive toward adjournment.

An early session was called in an effort to complete work on a complex excise tax revision bill that kept the senate on the job until close to midnight last night.

Senators yesterday managed to dispose of controversial whisky and oil-gas depletion allowance amendments. But several others were pending when the senate recessed for the night.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hoped the excise bill could be passed early in today's session, with the senate then moving on to another complex general tax revision bill.

However, yesterday's proceedings did not give much encouragement to legislators who want to wind up the second session of the 85th congress by this Saturday. Leaders had hoped to clear both of the big tax bills yesterday.

Hearings incomplete
Another hitch came when the senate finance committee did not complete public hearings yesterday, as planned, on the house-passed bill increasing social security benefits. These hearings continue today.

The house, which has cleaned up the bulk of its work, planned a session on routine legislation today.

In acting on the excise bill yesterday, the senate defeated 51-29 an attempt to strike out of the house-passed measure a provision benefiting whisky distillers.

This provision would permit a distiller to hold his product in bond up to 20 years without paying the $10.50 a gallon tax, instead of eight years as at present.

Byrd Against Bill
The senate vote came despite an attack on the provision by Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the finance committee. He denounced it as a "windfall running to many millions of dollars" and declared "I am certainly not willing to give tax relief to any whisky distillers when we are denying tax relief to other taxpayers."

Advocates of the section said it would not cost the treasury anything because distillers with big stocks of whisky approaching the 8-year mark could not afford to pay the tax on it anyway.

They said some distillers would have to pour their product down a sewer to avoid paying the tax if they could not dispose of it by any other method.

The house provision retained in the bill applies the 20-year rule to existing stocks as well as future production.

The unsuccessful effort to cut the 27 1/2 per cent oil and gas depletion allowance was a renewal of an old fight, but proponents of the reduction got more votes than in other recent tests.

Negro Rights at Issue In Primary Elections

Idaho Contest Features Candidate Who's Backing Legalized Gambling

By The Associated Press

Negro rights were at issue today in primary elections in New York and Arkansas. Farther west, in Idaho, a primary Brown Powell featured a candidate for governor who wants legalized gambling.

The New York primary was held in Harlem itself. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was challenged for the Democratic nomination for his house seat by another Negro, city councilman Earl Brown.

The contest is only one of 82 primaries for congressional and state legislative nominations in New York state. But politicians regard it as a possible gauge of Negro political sentiment in the nation.

It is the attitude towards the race question by the two candidates that makes the issue considerably more than purely local.

Powell has gone all out. He has called Brown a "hand-picked Uncle Tom"—a Negro phrase for members of their race considered subservient to whites.

Party Treason

For his part, Brown has accused Powell of rabble rousing racism and "treason to the Democratic party."

Most observers think Powell will win. He already has the Republican nomination. What politicians will be studying will be the victory margin.

In Arkansas, where Gov. Orval Faubus won an overwhelming primary victory July 29, the race issue has been raised in contests for nominations of two state supreme court justices.

As in the case of Faubus, the big question is integration of public schools.

Attorney Jim Johnson, organizer of Arkansas' first citizens council, a segregationist group, is trying to unseat Justice Minor Millwee.

Johnson calls Millwee a "flunky" for liberals. Johnson says there ought to be a state constitutional amendment to force the closure of a public school ordered to integrate.

Court Contest
The other Arkansas supreme court contest is between Griffin Smith, Jr., and Justice Ed F. McFaddin. Smith objects to a dissenting opinion by McFaddin to a court ruling that a man arrested during anti-integration demonstrations could not be prosecuted.

The Idaho man plumping for legalized gambling is State Sen. A. M. Derr, one of four Democratic candidates for governor.

It is Derr's contention that gambling casinos should be permitted in those Idaho communities that want it. Should that be done, he says, Idaho would benefit from a gambling tax and increased tourist business as well.

Derr's primary opponents are State Sen. Max Hanson; John Glasby, former Democratic state chairman; and Omar Maine, a farmer.

The winner will run against Gov. Robert E. Smylie, a Republican. Smylie has no primary opposition.

Thomson Criticized In Song by Nash

By The Associated Press
Philleo Nash, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, criticized Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson Monday night to the tune of "Davy Crockett" strummed on a guitar.

Nash's performance won applause from a group of about 50 Democrats at a 13th Ward Democratic meeting in Milwaukee.

Nash sang: "Vern wouldn't call a special election. Till he got the word of his coming ejection."

Hearing Set For Couple Who Left Child

Tulsa, Okla.—A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Aug. 21 for three persons held on child desertion charges in the swapping of a 5-month-old boy.

Held in lieu of $5,000 bond each are Richard Readdy, 26, of Shamokin, Pa., and his wife Helen Margaret, 20. They pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of child desertion.

Jesse L. Burger, 41, of El Dorado Springs, Mo., is held on a $2,500 bond after pleading innocent to a charge of aiding and abetting the Readdys in their alleged offense.

Paul Andrew, 5-month-old son of the Readdys, is at the Tulsa juvenile shelter, his future still undetermined.

The Pennsylvania couple is accused of trading the infant to Burger in exchange for the man's 1957 pickup truck.

The swap allegedly occurred after Burger, en route to Tulsa, picked up the young, jobless, almost broke couple as they hitchhiked to California.

In Shamokin the woman's father, William Murphy, said he wants the child if granted custody, he added:

"I will be glad to make a home for my daughter; her husband and the baby if they want to come home. I think they are confused and mixed up and need someone to look out after them."

Mickey Rooney Not Planning Fifth

Marriage, Agent Says

Hollywood—Mickey Rooney has no thought of marrying a blonde starlet who took an overdose of sleeping pills in his house, says Rooney's manager.

"They're just good friends," said Red Doff of the 4-times-married actor and 21-year-old Carolyn Mitchell, who swallowed the pills Thursday night while alone in Rooney's rented home.

Police listed Miss Mitchell's pill swallowing as attempted suicide, but she insisted it was an accident. She also said she and Rooney plan to be married when he is free.

Navy Blimp Returns to Base After Finishing Long Arctic Journey

'Snow Goose' Goes 8,000 Miles To Ice Island Near North Pole

South Weymouth, Mass.—

Its 8,000-mile Arctic journey completed, a navy blimp gracefully nosed into its home base here today and was promptly christened the "Snow Goose" by its exuberant crew.

When the Snow Goose touched down on the runway at 8:28 a.m. (EDT) it had been in the air 78 of the past 77 hours. In that time it had flown 3,400 miles from Cornwallis Island, north of the Arctic circle, to T-3, a floating ice island 500 miles from the North pole, then back home with only a one hour stop for refueling at Churchill, Manitoba. The refueling was done on the runway without tying up to a mast.

The Arctic expedition sponsored by the office of naval research was commanded by Capt. H. B. Van Gorder of Canandaigua, commanding officer of the naval air development unit at Weymouth.

Purpose of the trip was to test the feasibility of using blimps to drop supplies and for scientific observation in the far north particularly in summer when flying conditions are excellent. But the 24-hour Arctic sun make airplane landings impossible on the slushy icepack.

Made Mail Drop
The blimp made a mail drop on T-3, the ice island manned by IGY scientists, and dropped some depth charges for underwater sound studies in the surrounding Arctic ocean.

With several scientific observers aboard it demonstrated its ability to fly low, slow and long, prime assets for research in geography, geology, meteorology and other fields.

The snow goose, which lives in the far north but migrates south to the United States, was chosen as the blimp's nickname in recognition of the joint Canadian and American effort that went into the venture.

Representing Canada on the Arctic hop were Commodore O. C. S. Robertson of Montreal, naval member of the Canadian joint staff in Washington, D.C., and Wing Comdr. Keith Greenaway of Woodville, Ontario, an authority on polar navigation, who served as navigator on board.

Long Beach, Calif.—Six rockets will roar into space during the Oct. 12 eclipse of the sun at Danger island in the south Pacific.

The rockets will carry instruments to measure the sun's radiation and that of its corona during the eclipse.

The navy ship from which the Nike-Asp rockets will be fired, the Point Defiance, leaves here tomorrow on the scientific expedition, one of the International Geophysical Year studies.

Thirty scientists going along are headed by Dr. John W. Evans of the Sacramento peak observatory in New Mexico and Dr. Herb Friedman of the naval research laboratory, Washington.

Jap Socialist Leader Says U. S. Attempts To Dominate World

Tokyo—A Socialist party chairman Mosaburo Suzuki accused the United States today of trying to dominate the world with nuclear weapons.

The leader of the opposition to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government addressed the opening session of the fourth national conference against atomic and hydrogen bombs. Some 6,000 Japanese delegates and representatives from 22 foreign countries attended.

Suzuki charged the United States with stationing nuclear weapons in Europe and other parts of the world and with aggression in the Middle East. The predominantly leftist audience applauded frequently.

Streptomycin, Bone Marrow Cells Seem Good Radiation Protection

BY FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer

Burlington, Vt.—The possibility of a double-barreled protection against death from atomic bomb radiation was reported today.

The promising preventive—described as having achieved dramatic results in protecting mice from radiation death—consists of combining the wonder-drug streptomycin with bone marrow cells, both given by injection.

Researchers Howard H. Vogel, Jr., and Donn L. Jordan of the Atomic Energy commission's Argonne National laboratory told about it in a report to the first international congress on radiation research, being held on the campus of the University of Vermont.

The action of the dual treatment appears to provide a variation of the old "one-two punch" of the boxing world.

Explaining that symptoms of acute radiation sickness in mammals result primarily from injury to the gastro-intestinal and to the blood-forming system, the scientists said the dual treatment appears to work this way:

The streptomycin controls bacterial infection during the period of intestinal damage and thus prevents the early death usually seen in mice after exposure to heavy doses of atomic neutrons.

Dramatic Protection
Then by the 10th day after exposure, when streptomycin alone no longer offers protection, the bone marrow takes over, stimulating the blood-producing system.

The researchers said that when each of the materials was used individually, only limited protection was achieved. However, when the two were combined there was "a dramatic protection from death."

"Fewer than 15 per cent of the neutron-irradiated mice receiving this dual treatment died within the acute 30-day period," they said, "whereas the radiation dose caused death to from 90 to 100 per cent of the untreated control mice."

At a news conference, Dr. Robert H. Mole of Harwell, England—Britain's atomic energy research center—suggested a system of international control over disposal of radioactive wastes from nuclear power plants.

Catholic High Slightly Ahead Of Schedule

Buildings Should be Finished by June, School Opens in '59

Construction on Appleton's Catholic high school is proceeding according to schedule and, if anything, is slightly ahead of schedule.

Eugene Fountain, chairman of the building committee, said the school and homes for teaching nuns and brothers are expected to be completed by next June in ample time for the opening of the school year in September, 1959.

Work now is being done on the gymnasium section of the building and that area is expected to be finished in March.

At present, interior walls are being constructed and floors poured in the brothers' home which should be completed next February or March, Fountain said. The sisters' home is scheduled for completion next spring.

He stated most of the roughing-in has been finished by mechanical trades in the school building proper, interior partitions are being placed and equipment will be ordered this fall.

The school, going up on the city's southwest side, will have a 1,000-student capacity and will serve both boys and girls. It will be Appleton's third high school and its first Catholic high school.

Building is being financed by funds subscribed two years ago in a public drive. Over $1,000,000 was donated, the majority from Catholic families in the area.

Forty New Teachers Will Greet Students

Public School Figures Include

Additional Staff and Replacements

From 35 to 40 teachers, all new to the Appleton public school system, will be among the many instructors greeting their charges when classes open in September.

The number includes 11 elementary and 8 secondary teachers who have been added to the teaching force this year, along with some replacements.

The public school teaching roster still is not completed, J. P. Mann, superintendent of schools, said, because of last minute resignations, but a sufficient staff will be on hand to cope with the added number of pupils this year.

Eight instructors have been added to the Appleton High school faculty and the 11 other additional people will work in the elementary schools.

More Space

Additional classroom space also will be available in September, since Madison Junior High school will open its doors for the first time. Intermediate II and III, along with junior high school classes, will be housed in the new school.

Remodeled McKinley school will house intermediate II and III students only.

McKinley formerly served kindergarten, primary and some intermediate students, along with its junior high school enrollment.

Mann estimated 8,000 students will attend public schools this fall, an increase over the 7,826 enrolled during the second week of September last year.

AHS Increase

The estimate includes an enrollment of 1,850 for Appleton High school, an increase of 250; 1,400 for the junior high schools, about the same as last year; and from 4,700 to 4,800 for elementary schools, a slight increase.

The latter figure takes into consideration elimination of kindergarten for 4-year-olds and addition of about 250 first graders from Sacred Heart and St. Pius X Catholic schools.

Exact enrollment figures won't be available until the first week in September.

New Policeman Shoots Wife

ricks that he had worked at the service station of his father, Donald VanRoy, where he got the gun. The policeman said he had cleaned it and adjusted it at the station.

When the couple arrived home shortly after 7 o'clock, VanRoy said he asked his wife to look at the gun. The 3-shot revolver was fully loaded, police said.

Dog Ran Out
As VanRoy took the gun from the holster, the couple's pet dog ran from another room, between VanRoy's legs and toward Mrs. VanRoy.

VanRoy, off balance, fell. He told police that his wife said, "I'm shot," and fell to the floor. He said he did not hear the shot.

"It wasn't Tom's fault — it was an accident," Mrs. VanRoy told Clarence Hopfensperger, Larry's ambulance driver, as he took her to the hospital. She later reiterated this to police.

Accidental Shooting
Chief Hendricks said a statement would be taken from VanRoy this morning, but termed the shooting accidental. He added, however, that the mishap indicated careless handling of a gun on VanRoy's part. VanRoy is on probationary status as a policeman, since he has not served six months.

Police said they found several pistols, revolvers and rifles in VanRoy's home, all loaded. It was reported he is a gun hobbyist and was repairing the .32 caliber revolver to carry as a weapon when he was off duty, rather than the heavy service revolver.

VanRoy was not on duty at time of the shooting. The shot passed through Mrs. VanRoy's chest, passing through the liver and narrowly missing the spine as it left her body. The woman will be in critical condition for at least a week, it was indicated. Mrs. VanRoy was in surgery for about four hours.

The couple has been married about a year and has no children.

Czechs Release U. S. Students Held 3 Days

Vienna — (U-P) Czechoslovak authorities today released John Bachman Hardesty, a 22-year-old American student, of Nashville, Tenn., arrested last week on charges of border violation.

He was held for three days. He was turned over to Austrian authorities at the border check point of Berg.

Kassem led the revolt that abolished the Iraqi monarchy and set up the new republic, he still wears the royal crown among the insignia on his epaulettes. (AP Wirephoto)

the window, he added. While upstairs, Howard heard a shot, he said.

When he came down, Howard told Kosmosky, Mrs. Dimmick had fled toward the highway and Dimmick was standing near a gas shed, shouting that he would burn down the house if he couldn't live in it.

Shot at Howard
Dimmick, sighting Howard, emptied the gun at him as the hired man ran around a tractor and headed for the open fields, Howard said.

Mrs. Dimmick hailed a grain truck on the highway and an unidentified driver took her to Chilton. Dimmick was treated after his arrest for bruises, apparently inflicted by Mrs. Dimmick with the iron poker, Kosmosky said. The poker was found at the farm home, he added.

Dimmick was charged with injuring his wife by conduct without regard for human life and injuring her by negligent use of a weapon. Justice of the Peace Wilbur R. Winch set the bond, with a hearing Aug. 27. Kosmosky called the shooting the first of its kind in Calumet county in 20 years.

Dimmick was Mrs. Dimmick's third husband and she was his second wife. They lived on the farm for about seven years since they were married.

Reds in Britain Reach Post-War Low

London — (U-P) Britain's communist party lost a quarter of its membership after the Hungarian revolt and is down to a postwar low of 25,000, an anti-communist organization claimed today.

But in a booklet "The British Road to Stalinism," the Industrial Research and Information Services warned that communist infiltration unions remains a danger.

"We must never forget that even a single communist in an influential position constitutes a challenge to freedom," the booklet said.

sure any Arab state which opposes the United States." The American plan has not been officially disclosed. There was a possibility that President Eisenhower might unwrap the package in a personal appearance here.

Secretary of State Dulles was to meet with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today to mesh their strategy.

There was growing expectations that the president would journey to New York to speak either at the opening of the debate Wednesday or on Thursday. A major policy speech has been prepared outlining economic - political measures the United States will ask the Assembly to approve in an effort to stabilize the Middle East.

Both Russia and the west were pressing for maximum support in the 81-nation assembly. Spokesmen for the so-called neutral nations were holding back until they got a fill-in from both sides on the concrete measures they would propose to the emergency assembly meeting.

Disorderly Squirrel Raises Havoc in Park In New York City

New York — (U-P) A disorderly squirrel ran wild in an east side park yesterday.

For no apparent reason, it bit Mrs. Mary Fischer, 33, on the right arm.

An elderly gallant, Charles Michelovitz, went to her aid and was rewarded with a squirrel-bite on the right wrist. Michelovitz is 74 but he still hasn't found a way to deal with fighting squirrels.

Patrolman Edward Keln chased the squirrel around the park with a wooden fruit crate. It leaped over a small fence. Klein followed, landed in a small water drain on the other side and sprained his ankle.

Finally, the squirrel charged into a net held by another patrolman and was carried off to a shelter of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mrs. Fischer, Michelovitz and Klein were treated at a hospital.

Madison High Will Open for Fall Term

Won't be Finished But Classrooms Will be Ready

Appleton's newest school, James Madison Junior High school, will open its doors to students for the first time in September.

Although all areas will not be completed, J. P. Mann, superintendent of schools, says classrooms will be finished in time for the influx of south side students.

The auditorium and gymnasium probably won't be completed for the beginning of the term and work will go on after classes begin.

About 370 students are expected to enroll in the school. Stretchy sock tights featured in the leading fashion magazines.

Recesses Dot School Year

1958-59 Calendar Lists Traditional Vacations, Parleys

A scattering of vacations throughout the school year will help make the academic burden a bit lighter for Appleton public school youngsters. The school calendar, released by John P. Mann, superintendent of schools, shows the traditional conventions and recesses are scheduled throughout the year.

All teachers will report for orientation sessions beginning Aug. 27. Classes begin Wednesday morning, Sept. 3.

The first vacation for pupils will be Nov. 6 and 7 when teachers attend their annual state convention in Milwaukee. Thanksgiving recess is scheduled for Nov. 27 and 28.

Christmas Vacation

Christmas vacation lasts from Dec. 20 through Jan. 4. The first semester ends Jan. 21 and the second semester begins Jan. 26. The days between the first and second semesters will be used as teacher training days.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Education association convention, to be held in Appleton, tentatively is scheduled for March 20. Easter recess is listed for March 26, 27 and 30. Classes also will be suspended on Memorial day, May 30.

The cycle is completed with the closing of all public schools on June 5.

worn with a variety of jacket and blouse tops. Middy top and skirt follow the 1958-59 relaxed look. The trend in fashion seems to lean toward the mix and match styles rather than the suit.

The economical mother and daughter will like the shetland and fur blend type sweaters rather than knits. For the sub-teen girl who is growing rapidly these have the same look as the sweaters big sis wears, yet are less expensive.

The crew-neck sweater, the bulky knit and the new V-neck, buttoned at the waist, 'comer' sweater will be in demand for the style-conscious young misses. They also will like the fine-gauge sweater to tuck inside the skirt — a fashion trend for fall.

Skirts in Color Trend Skirts will follow the fashion trend in combinations of five basic colors—bold plaids, prints, corduroys, tweeds and wools. Sweaters will be tucked into skirt bands to show off the belts, waist line details and to accent the long torso look.

Once again there will be the straight skirt, four-gore skirt and the full skirt with un-pressed pleats. But they also will have the long torso look with pleats beginning at the hip or thigh. Whatever the style, very few will be in solid colors.

Since the materials will not be plain, the sub-teen will want to choose a tailored basic blouse. These will be white with the roll-up, three-quarter length or long sleeve, and notched, Johnny, Peter Pan or Ivy League collar.

Chemise Linerie A fashion note in lingerie is the 'flapper look' in slips. Straight torso, with the pleated flounce to give body to the chemise, and trapeze dress designs with low pleats to the hemline.

For those after school parties and fall bicycle rides, tapered slacks in the washable wools, wool blends, corduroy and tarpon cloth will be on the store racks. The ultra-tailored look of these slacks will make them very fashionable. For cold weather the smart young lady will buy this style of slacks with an inner lining.

Bermuda shorts will be popular, too, in plaid and figured materials. For under the shorts or skirts, Fox City stores will be selling the toe to waist long-legs — the

The New Look for Fall is well established in the designs for sub-teen wearing apparel. Jean Schmidt, route 3, Kaukauna, left, will dazzle her fellow Sixth graders in a chemise jumper over a shetland-type sweater. The jumper is in red and heather gray checked plaid fabric, machine washable of wool and vicara. It follows the long torso 'flapper' look in pleated outfits. The sweater has three-quarter length sleeves. Fifth grader, Noreen Hart, Brillion, center, models the 2-piece jumper and over blouse ensemble. The jumper is cotton tweed stripe and the chemise over blouse with short sleeves is corduroy, both accentuating the blue spruce color for fall. She is dressed in one of the many mix and match outfits for back-to-school Jean's Third grade sister, Mary, right, wears a wash and wear bold plaid cotton dress in hemlock green and russet. She has topped her pleated dress with a corduroy 'comer' vest. This double duty topper can be used with other dresses or skirts and blouses. Mary and Jean are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schmidt, Kaukauna, and Noreen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, Brillion. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Mademoiselle Sub-Teener Will Dress Fashionably

Wood-Tone Hues Feature Fall's Five Basic Styles

Mademoiselle sub-teener will be in the height of fashion this fall with her back-to-school outfits in the five new basic colors called wood-tones—redwood, blue spruce, hemlock green, cedar russet and black oak.

In the sub-teen age group, solid colors will be less popular this year. Fox Cities fashion coordinators claim that combinations of the basic five hues put into the tapestry look, hothouse flowers, foulards and paisleys, big and bold plaids and the tweed and striped fabrics will be the last word in style.

Textured cottons in the new figured, plaid and striped designs are first choice for back-to-school outfits. Plain, figured and tweed corduroys, cotton knits (completely washable) and the woolens and woolen blends with orlon, nylon and vicara also will be seen in all fashion designs.

Trim Look Also combinations of colors and figured colors will keep youngsters neat and trim, since materials will show less soil and wrinkles.

New fall figured fabrics will be tenser and richer in color, creating a 3-D appearance in rich styling. The fall look will be the textured look.

The young feminine figure will be complimented by styles designed to fit — the self-conscious sub-teen girl is particular about her clothes and wants a variety of them. Designers have met her needs with five basic styles—chemise, cocoon back, sickle back, skirt tail and trapeze.

Daughters will be dressed in the image of the older set. The overall style picture will be more wearable, following the five basic designs. They will be less conversational in creation and more modified, flattering and relaxed.

School dresses in the variety of materials will be comfortably fashioned with the chemise straight-line look, a long torso with a pleated skirt beginning at the hip or thigh line, an unfitted shirt tail dress with button-down collar or a straight front-full back design.

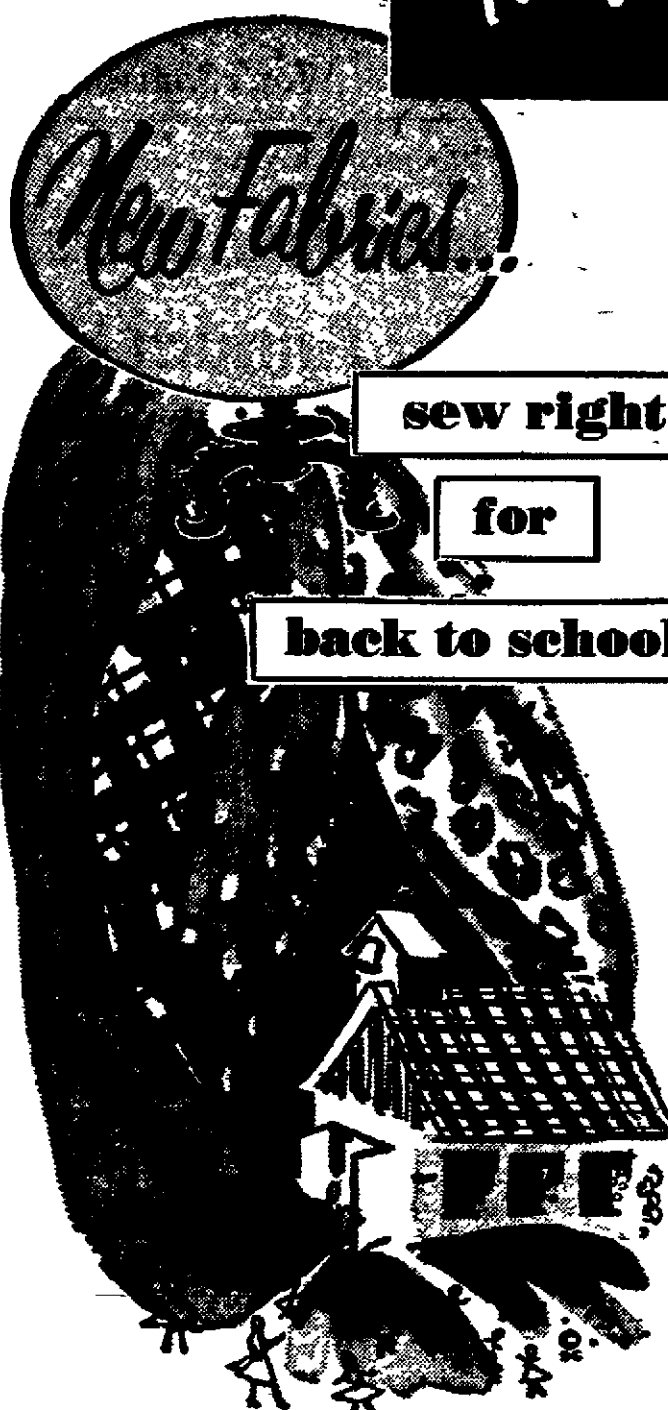

Dress details will include detachable belts; short, three-quarter, full length and roll-up sleeves; collars and bows; suggestions of belts at hip and back, and buttons as part of designs.

Favor Mix'n Match Wardrobes will also include scoop-neck jumpers in the chemise, trapeze and long-torso styles. Some will have the 2-piece look of a middy top with pleated skirt. All are designed to be worn with a sweater or blouse.

A standard favorite will be the mix and match outfits including solid sweaters worn with tweed, plaid and figured skirts. One skirt also can be

Spending for Highways

The giant excavating machines of the highway contractors are chewing up the earth at several locations in Wisconsin in preparation for the construction of the first miles of the so-called Interstate highway system, a part of a national inter-regional highway building effort that has been hailed as the greatest since the Roman emperors.

The Wisconsin share of that superior network of roads will be built at a cost of about $1,000,000 a mile, and the handsome maintenance costs that will come later have not yet been computed.

In Milwaukee, the county highway department is busily engaged in another herculean effort, in the so-called express-ways program, that will provide better traffic movement within the city and in its outskirts, at an outlay of $6 to $9 million a mile.

These are stupendous figures, as the reader can reflect with the slightest calculation related to his own experience. But all the comments thus far have been favorable. Some of the descriptions of these enterprises by persons and organizations otherwise skeptical about public expenditures have been glowing in their enthusiasm.

Yet at other levels of government equally earnest public officials are trying to win public approval for far more modest spending proposals, against odds.

The state highway department which calmly issues bulletins about spending some $450,000,000 on superhighways during the next decade is a branch of the same state government at Madison where other officials shudder at proposals for $500,000 for a new state children's hospital, to cite an example from the current dispatches, or a $1,000,000 revolving fund for state college and university student loans, to pick up another from the current news.

Why this disparity in treatment and response in the disbursement of the public treasury? It is a subject that has had a good deal of acidulous comment. Just the other day Assemblyman Frank N. Graess of Door county, who has seen more of the evolution of state affairs than most of his colleagues in the state capitol, grumbled about the free and easy way we spend for highways and the careful auditing of all other public service proposals.

The answer lies in the universality of public roads with respect to their usefulness. Everybody drives or travels by motor car. It is given to only a handful of us to be really informed on other public service problems. Our economy is increasingly linked to efficient transportation, and, lest we forget, the highway building industry is a sizeable one on its own account and has shown a considerable aptitude in the political arena where these allocations of the public purse are resolved.

What Others are Saying

Eisenhower Should Do Something About Annual Hikes in Steel Prices

From the Chicago Daily News

If President Eisenhower has a big stick, he should use it on the steel companies which have just announced another price hike averaging about $4.50 a ton.

To do less is to concede the inevitability of a new inflationary spiral with higher price tags on automobiles, appliances and hundreds of other items sold in the consumer market.

Since the end of World War II, we have seen 10 average price increases in steel:

Year	Dollars a Ton	Year	Dollars a Ton
1946	$3.00	1953	$4.00
1947	5.00	1954	2.00
1948	8.25	1955	7.25
1949	5.50	1956	3.50
1952	5.00	1957	6.00

The explanation is always the same: To compensate for wage increases.

In this instance, the steelmasters are calling the new increase "conservative" and "adequate." Some have said the $4.50 increase will enable them to recover less than 50 per cent of the higher wage costs which went into effect July 1.

So once again we see the folly of the "pay and pass on" philosophy as practiced by the leaders of business and labor.

The workers get a higher hourly rate and additional benefits.

The industrialists charge more for their products.

The consumer gets hurt in the pocketbook and buys less than he normally would buy because he has no other protection.

Just as the Nation is said to be emerging from the recession, the steelmakers have dealt the economy a hard blow.

Is this business leadership? Is it wise?

No one expects the steel companies to absorb the full impact of the higher costs which they negotiated with the union. But is this not the time for restraint in the pricing of goods and products?

Must our economy be committed permanently to ever higher wages and constantly rising prices?

On several occasions, the President has pleaded with leaders of business and labor to exercise moderation in wage demands and the pricing of goods.

In effect, both his business pals and labor's big shots have told him to go hit a golf ball.

Several years ago, the President muffed his opportunity to get tough with both sides. When they found him disinclined to grapple with the powerful economic forces controlling our economy, Mr. Eisenhower's appeals for restraints were completely ignored.

What can the President do now? Nothing perhaps — in the absence of a national emergency — other than crack down publicly on the steel companies for selfish and shortsighted policies which further jeopardize the Nation's recovery.

It would be good to see the President, who has cancelled seven press conferences in nine weeks, get mad over something more vital to the country than getting a double bogey on the last hole.

Church Bell Hoisted Into Place

75 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 16, 1879.

Quite an excitement was caused on the street Tuesday morning by the announcement that the big bell recently bought by the Methodist church would be hung that afternoon.

At 12 o'clock a small crowd of men and a large crowd of boys assembled to see the bell put in place. For some time 13 bosses endeavored to enlighten each other as to the best way to do the job. It was finally discovered that Mr. Joseph Putnam had been contracted to raise the bell. Upon discovering this, the 13 bosses sat down immediately on the fence to hold it down.

By means of a complicated system of pulleys, the bell was finally raised at about 6 o'clock to its resting place on the bell deck, below the clock faces.

The huge bell weighs 4,300 pounds and is the largest church bell in the state. The tone is very deep, being in the key of C.

A discussion, out of which was expected to be decided what type of high school plans the city would submit for federal consideration and financial aid, was scheduled for Thursday. Mayor Goodland, the common council, the school board and the special committee appointed by the chamber of commerce to study the proposal were to be present.

Two Appleton school children won prizes in the poster contest conducted by the state department of the American Legion in connection with the annual sale of poppies. They were James Greiner, who received a cash prize of $2 for third place in the high school class and Miss Alice Rettler, who received a cash prize of $3 for second prize in the grade school class.

Stephen D. Balliet, representing local fuel and building supply dealers, returned from Madison where he was informed by the state recovery officials that no local codes for industry would be considered until the national code for each industry had been submitted and approved.

Mrs. J. F. King was chairman of the golf committee, Mrs. E. F. Mielke of the bridge committee, and Mrs. P. A. Paulson of the flower committee for the ladies day that was to be held at Butte des Morts Golf club.

Pari Mutuel Betting In Wisconsin? Never

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Notes from the cuff of a political reporter: A journalistic colleague from a near-by state writes to inquire about the validity of the rumors he has heard about a prospective push in the next Wisconsin legislature to legalize pari mutuel horse and dog race betting.

It is the most imaginative rumor of the year, with respect to the prospects for such legislation. It would be easier to move the statehouse to North Freedom. A betting bill probably wouldn't find an author willing even to introduce it, surely wouldn't get a dozen votes on a roll call.

A recent essay about truck speeds was widely misunderstood, according to communications and complaints received. This correspondent didn't write the truck speed law. The people of Wisconsin as represented in the senate and assembly did. This correspondent didn't assert on his own authority that heavy vehicles at high speeds wear out roads. State highway commission researchers and others of technical competence do.

Republican state headquarters is polling GOP organization workers on a variety of questions, including the current status of the Thomson-Nelson and Steinle-Proxmire contests.

NELSON AIDE

James Wimmer Jr., 23-year-old son of a widely known Wisconsin Dells innkeeper and an enthusiastic young politician, has become the principal campaign aide of Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Madison in his drive for the governorship on the Democratic ticket.

Frank Verbest, chairman of the Blatz division of the Pabst Brewing company under the recently completed merger of the two big companies, is a fervent Democrat and reputed by many Democrats to be future timber for high office if the party begins to prosper in this state.

Those persons who have been annoyed by the operations of the overloaded state capitol switchboard will be pleased to know that repairs and improvements are underway that will permit easier and more communication from the outside to the officers and employees of the seat of Wisconsin government.

Stewart Struck, a legislative researcher who made a study of the auto insurance for the legislature a few years ago, is prospering handsomely as the head of a new company he founded, to underwrite special risks in the auto casualty field.

BAE IN NEW OFFICES

The State Bar of Wisconsin has moved into its handsome new office building, a few blocks from state capitol square. The organization has prospered since the law requiring all lawyers to join and to pay dues.

The state highway department is hiring a special public relations officer for its Milwaukee office. It has a generously staffed publicity division at state capitol headquarters.

Contrary to some expectations, Assistant Director Donald McNeil of the State Historical society staff won't become director to replace Dr. Clifford Lord, who is leaving to become a dean at Columbia University. McNeil has flatly informed the board of curators of the society that he is not interested in the promotion.

U. S. Should Learn From Recession

From The Peoria, Iowa, Journal-Star

Many who ought to know about these things interpret economic signs with optimism now. They are convinced that business is beginning to move toward higher levels. They do not expect anything spectacular, just a slow, steady build-up.

If this is true, the present business slump has been relatively mild. That is important, because post-war slumps in the past have generally been disastrous.

Economic history tells of other depressions that hit the nation 10 to 12 years after major wars. They were long and severe.

Economists say that the tremendous postwar prosperity results from a natural effort of the nation to replace what has been destroyed by war and to catch up with the backlog of demands from people who were unable to buy during the war. Such prosperity fosters wild speculation and overproduction. When the reaction comes, it comes with a violent crash. That was the kind of depression that started in 1929, 11 years after the end of World War I.

Our experience of 1929 and following years led many to believe that a big postwar depression had started in 1957. Some still keep their fingers crossed. But the general feeling in the business world is that a major depression has been averted.

If so, there are a few things we should have learned in the last 10 months.

One is that the various stabilizing influences (such as unemployment compensation and old age benefits), built into our economy, have been effective in holding down panic psychology.

Another is that no drastic government action, such as a tax cut to give people spending money, was necessary. All the people who were screaming at the president a few months ago to "do something" have quieted down. The economy will probably stabilize itself better without much help from the government.

Utilization of the Schools

The Legislative Council committee which is ostensibly studying how to attain a more efficient utilization of the public school plant of Wisconsin has turned in a disappointing performance.

Either it has misconstrued its mandate, as contained in a resolution of the legislature last year, or it is subtly prejudging the issue and managing the evidence to achieve the conclusions it wants.

We hold no particular brief for those who for so many years have criticized the light use of our school buildings and those who have asked, during these periods of high school costs, whether some of the traditional program arrangements might not be modified to get more service out of a school capital dollar.

But the legislature respected their queries sufficiently to order a "study." A "study," the bystander might imagine, would involve some consideration of the fiscal aspects of the matter. But the committee has not even pretended to examine the economics. It has appeared to be concerned solely with the politics. It has listened to opponents, who have said that pupils won't like changes, parents won't like them, and teachers won't like them. We could have guessed that. The legislature probably knew that before it asked for an examination of the subject.

But what various persons like or don't like is scarcely relevant — at this stage. They can decide their preferences and their prejudices more fairly, after the facts of the matter have been exposed. Could the school budget be helped by adjusting the school calendar? How much? Was the school calendar originally designed according to conditions that are no longer pertinent in 1958? Some cities in the country have adjusted their daily and annual school schedules. What of their experience?

Such matters might be considered essential, if the committee's deliberations are to be dignified with the word "study."

But no effort to dig into such questions has been made, in spite of the fact that permissive legislation is about to be subjected to public criticism at public hearings. The results of those hearings won't be hard to guess, and we are sorry to admit the uneasy suspicion that the committee planned it that way.

Van Pelt Explains Why He Opposed Alaska Statehood

From Report from Washington by Cong. William R. Van Pelt, Of the Sixth district

... Therefore I shall discuss some of the many factors that convince me Alaska is not ready for statehood and that it was a mistake to impose these responsibilities upon the territory at this time.

My judgment is based partially upon personal observations made on a trip to Alaska last year. As a member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries committee I had the opportunity to visit the principal cities of Alaska and to talk to many of the Alaskans who attended the hearings conducted by the committee. I was surprised to find very little sentiment in Alaska for statehood. Many said Alaska cannot finance the additional burdens, calling attention to the fact that the economy of the Territory is a purely artificial one, bolstered by huge federal handouts. More than two thirds of the territorial income is from this source.

Similarly the population of Alaska is an unstable one. The 1960 census lists a total population of 161,000 of which 141,000 are adults. Many residents remain less than three years and the military personnel is constantly changing.

The total population of the Territory is far less than any one of the 435 Congressional Districts in the existing 48 States. In the last general election only 28,767 votes were cast. Yet this small group will be entitled to elect two United States Senators and at least one member of the House of Representatives. This power is wholly disproportionate and excessive. As a State, Alaska will elect three Presidential electors, one for each 54,000 inhabitants. Thus Alaskans will have a 6 to 1 advantage in effectiveness of their votes in electing a President of the United States.

Alaska will enter the Union with the most generous dowry given to any State. The bill conferring statehood provides an outright grant to Alaska of 102,550,000 acres of land, including all of the mineral rights. The State will have 50 years to decide which acreage is preferred. The State will thus be able to dispose of the most valuable land and mineral rights in any way it chooses . . .

Reds Won't Give Germany Arms

From the Manchester, N. H., Union Leader

There are three things certain in this world — death, taxes and communism lies. And the biggest whopper of them all is Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's statement that Soviet Russia is planning to offer atomic weapons to communist East Germany.

You can mark it down in your notebook right now that this will never come about. Khrushchev is only too well aware what atomic weapons would have accomplished for the freedom fighters in Budapest, Poznan and East Berlin.

Friend's Remedy for Lice Works Too Well

Year-Round Health Programs Aid Appleton School Children

A comprehensive program designed to observe and, when necessary, administer to the health needs of all school youngsters, has been in effect for many years in the Appleton system.

Because Appleton school men and women work with the philosophy that the total child must be served and because it is their belief that a sick pupil cannot be a good student, the health program has been set up to nip any oncoming illness, as soon as possible.

Besides the observations of the three nurses and a dental hygienist who serve both public and parochial schools, health records include comments of the teachers who watch the child's health just about as closely as they watch the youngster's academic growth.

A permanent health record is kept in each child's folder and is used early in the school year as a basis for appraisal, for review of individual health habits and for guidance. The records are confidential.

Medical Exam
Nurses advise that each child receive a medical examination from the family physician before the start of the September school term. This is supplemented during the year by the school program. Each elementary teacher weighs and measures her students each October and April, recording the statistics on the health record. Failure of a child to grow over a 3-month period may indicate something is wrong and, if this is the case, a nurse is notified.

Nurses also are notified if a child is obviously overweight so a follow-up program can be arranged through the home.

The year's program also includes vision and hearing screening early in the school year. Classroom teachers administer the vision tests while nurses and volunteer women give hearing tests on audiometers. The volunteers are trained for their duties early in the school year.

Youngsters who are found not to have normal hearing are retested by the nurses and a hearing usually is held in the fall for those recommended to it. Reports from the hearing clinic are forwarded to the family and the family's physician.

The immunization program is considered one of the most important of the health services offered by the schools. Each year clinics are set up to administer triple toxoid shots and small pox vaccinations and boosters to children who haven't received the inoculations from the family physician. Parental permission is required before the shots are given and all are given by doctors of the county medical society.

A tuberculosis control program is exercised in the later years of the school child's life and, again with parental permission, TB skin tests are offered each winter to discover whether a child has come in contact with the disease.

Japan Winning Drive to Cut High Birth Rate

Tokyo — Japan is winning a quiet but concerted drive to control its birth rate. There were 2,678,000 babies in 1947 but only 1,558,000 last year.

Experts predict further cuts as the program of birth control education spreads.

Through the 19th century, Japan maintained its population at 30 million by widespread infanticide — killing of newborn babies.

Today with triple that population Japan practices abortion.

Abortion "for the economic welfare of the mother" became legal in 1949 during the U. S. occupation. Legal abortions by qualified physicians can be obtained some places for $6.

Statistics show an average of 1,600,000 abortions a year the past five years. These were more than the number of births during 1957.

The ministry estimates 31 per cent of all married women have had abortions and that 43 per cent of couples practice contraception.

Authorities hope to cut the number of abortions to 500,000 a year through further dissemination of birth control information. About half a million needy persons get contraceptives free from the state.

Since 1949, 250,000 sterilization operations have been reported, 90 per cent to women. Some young mothers request sterilization after their first childbirth.

Lutheran High Foresees Rise In Enrollment

About 304 Pupils Expected, School Runs at Capacity

Another enrollment increase is forecast this year for Fox Valley Lutheran High school.

Officials expect about 304 students — 88 freshmen, 85 sophomores, 73 juniors and 58 seniors — to fill classrooms this fall compared to a total of 284 last year. The '58 figures are tentative. Exact enrollment won't be known until after the start of the semester.

The institution, beginning its sixth year in Appleton, has shown a consistent growth in pupils since its inception. The new building at N. Oneida street and Highway 41 already is operating at capacity level.

To meet the increase, five new faculty members have been added, bringing the staff to 15 teachers.

New Teachers

This year's new members and their subjects are Miss Doris Schroeder, commercial and physical education; the Rev. Paul Koch, Latin and religion; Howard Rauch, English; Walter Klann, mathematics; and Andrew Madson, commercial and physical education.

The school is considering building another wing, but start of construction has been delayed because of lack of funds, it was pointed out.

The building, constructed with a 300-student capacity, will exceed that total this year and has been operating close to capacity ever since the new structure was opened.

Another wing had been included in original plans but was eliminated for financial reasons.

The 1958 term will open with a religious service at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Aug. 31, in the gymnasium for students, parents, teachers and friends. New students will participate in an orientation session Tuesday, Sept. 2. Classes begin Wednesday morning, Sept. 3.

Woodlawn 4-H Club Plans Picnic Supper

The Woodlawn 4-H club will have a potluck picnic supper Aug. 27 at the Robert Paltzer home. It was announced at the monthly meeting in Grand Chute.

A safety committee appointed at the meeting consists of Nancy Mossholder, chairman, Dennis Gillespie, Janice Schinke and Jim Koleske.

Talks and demonstrations were given by John Baum, Larry Mossholder, Koleske and Paltzer.

Record books are due at the leader's home by Sept. 1.

Several School Principals Take New Positions

Two new principals, both of them veteran teachers, have been named for Appleton public schools.

Raymond Parkinson, formerly an Intermediate 2 instructor at Columbus school, will take over as head of that school and Miss Helen Sweet, formerly of Whispering Pines school, has been named principal at Washington school.

James Murphy, former Washington principal, has been appointed head of McKinley school, while Walter Fox, former McKinley principal, will move to the main office of Madison Junior High school.

Robert Sauter, Columbus school principal, will take over at Franklin school replacing Robert Knapp, who resigned to go into sales work.

New Look for Old School

Remodeling Converts McKinley for Use on Intermediate Level

A new, refreshed look will greet intermediate 2 and 3 youngsters when they begin their classes in McKinley school next month.

The old building has undergone an extensive remodeling job since June to ready it for its new functions this term. Utilized for many years both as a junior high and grade school, McKinley now will serve only the two intermediate levels.

The second floor gymnasium has been converted into two classrooms and a corridor has been continued through the entire east-west length of the building. The area where industrial arts shops were located now is a physical education room.

The administrative office has been moved from the west end to the east end of the building and in time the old office area will be converted into a classroom, John P. Mann, superintendent of schools, said.

Eleven classrooms will be in operation when doors open Sept. 3.

Wins Academic Honor

Northport — Miss Rita Casey has been named to the dean's honor list for scholastic achievement at Stout State college, Menomonie. She will be a senior in the home economics department this fall.

Orientation Period Planned for Teachers

Sessions Will Consist of Meetings in Assigned Buildings, City Discussions

A period of orientation for both new and veteran teachers will precede the opening of Appleton public schools.

Although classes won't begin until Wednesday, Sept. 3, principals will return to their buildings on Friday, Aug. 15.

New teachers will arrive for a pre-orientation period on Monday, Aug. 25, and all teachers will participate in a 4-day orientation period beginning Wednesday, Aug. 27. Both pre-orientation and orientation will consist of getting acquainted periods, tours and discussions of professional problems.

X-Rays Scheduled
Pre-orientation for all elementary school teachers new to the Appleton system will begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning, Aug. 25, when teachers meet in their assigned buildings for a get acquainted session, a tour of the building and a discussion of building policies.

That afternoon, X-rays will be given at Riverview sanatorium and teachers, teacher-helpers and principals will report back to Morgan school for welcoming talks by John P. Mann, superintendent of schools, and Miss Martha Sorensen, director of elementary education.

Teachers will be back in their buildings Tuesday morning, Aug. 26, and will be guests at a luncheon at Richmond school sponsored by the city-wide Parent-Teacher association. School board members and city officials also will be invited to the annual luncheon.

All school personnel will report for orientation Wednesday morning, Aug. 27, at Morgan school where a general meeting will be held. Meetings in assigned buildings are scheduled for that afternoon. Thursday, Aug. 28, also will be devoted to work in buildings and a city-wide meeting is listed for Friday, Aug. 29, at Morgan school. The speaker for the latter has not been announced as yet.

Building meetings also are

Darboy Church To Hold Annual Picnic Sunday

Darboy—Holy Angels Catholic church will hold its annual picnic and country-style chicken dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Matt Hopfensperger, president of the St. Ann society, is in charge of the dinner which will be served from 11 o'clock Sunday morning to 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be a cafeteria supper at 5 o'clock.

There will be games, refreshments and pony rides throughout the day. A fancy work booth will be prepared.

Sunday morning masses will be at 5 and 9 o'clock instead of the usual times of 7:30 and 9:30 because of the picnic. The Rev. Arnold Schmidt is pastor of the church.

Co-chairmen in the dining room are Mrs. Mark Emmers and Mrs. Anthony Dietzen. Picnic committee members are George Sprangers, president; Mrs. Stanley Zuleger, secretary; Mrs. Louis Van Rossum, Mrs. Hopfensperger, Kenneth Schmalz and George A. Schwalbach.

Classes scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 2, to round out plans and programs for the beginning of classes the next day.

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as the "Voice of Two Worlds", is offering, free of charge to the public, an astonishing Booklet which is a great step forward toward the answer to this question. The search for clues led to a prolonged study of all the great religions of the world, until at last a surprising new light was thrown upon the entire subject of prayer.

In this new light, even the well known Lord's Prayer acquires astonishing new meanings. Hidden between the lines are deep significances and wonderful truths that do not appear in the words alone. The free booklet points these out and is entitled "The Magic Between the Lines of the Lord's Prayer".

"The Voice of Two Worlds", a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement of power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise. These strange methods were found in the Far East, where in ancient times all the great religions and philosophies of the world originated. He discloses how he learned promptly, as only a limited number of the world have been, practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats.

He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition as a leading geographer and map-maker of the Far East.

He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the wisest mystics he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants many others to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

For your free copy of the amazing free booklet entitled "The Magic Between the Lines of the Lord's Prayer", together with other free literature regarding this remarkable system, address the Institute of Mental-Physics, 213 So. Hobart Blvd., Dept. M-353, Los Angeles 4, California. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Recognition Of Iraq Rebels Is Not Approval

Lawrence Sees U. S. Action as Merely 'See and See' Move

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Did the United States, by according diplomatic recognition to the new government in Iraq, give its approval to the king and the installation of a successor regime by military force?

Nikita S. Lawrence Khushchev thinks it did. But the department of state emphatically disagrees.

Khushchev deliberately misconstrued America's action in recognizing the new government in Iraq. He wrote in his last letter to President Eisenhower:

"Now the United States and other western powers have recognized the republican government of Iraq. Consequently, you and your allies have admitted that the Iraqi people had the right to change the existing regime. This is your assertion about some kind of an indirect aggression have no foundation."

But the United States has never said that the people of any country do not have the right to change their own government by revolution. What it has said repeatedly — and what Khushchev conveniently ignores — is that it must be the action of a government in setting up a government and not some foreign government furnishing men, arms and ammunition for the purpose of aiding a faction whose leaders have been hired for the purpose by that same foreign government.

Compare Broadcasts
The United States has taken note of the record of the radio stations in Baghdad controlled by the new Iraqi government and has compared it with what was being said by the same station under the preceding regime. It reveals that the incoming government on several occasions has been far more interested in expressing hostility toward the west than in expounding domestic issues.

The state department decided to resume diplomatic representation in Baghdad as a gesture of convenience in gathering information first hand and to afford the new regime a chance to prove by its deeds and its broadcasts that it is not antagonistic to the west. Also, America asked for and obtained assurances that international obligations would be honored.

Can Be Withdrawn
Recognition, of course, be withdrawn at any moment that American lives and property should be jeopardized in Iraq. For the uniform action of the western allies in extending recognition to the Baghdad regime was simply a decision based on the exigencies of the moment. It implies neither approval nor disapproval of the existing government. It is a policy of "wait and see."

If, in time, the Iraqi government proves to be a tool of Moscow and a disturber of the peace in the Middle East, the people of Iraq may be appealing for western military assistance in their struggle against domination by Cairo and Moscow. In that event, the whole recognition picture would change overnight.

The case of Iraq differs entirely from that of red China. In the latter instance, serious international aspects are involved — virtually a state of war in the Far East. There is an armistice in Korea which has been repeatedly violated by the Peiping government in moving additional planes into North Korea. American military forces are still stationed in Korea to carry out a United Nations directive. A U.N. resolution has denounced red China's government as an "aggressor."

Explains Reasons
The state department has just released a lengthy document explaining again its reasons for not recognizing the red China regime. It says:

"The Korean conflict was the first and most important effort to halt aggression through collective action in the United Nations. For communist China, one of the parties against which the effort of the United Nations was directed, to be seated in the United Nations while still unpurged of its aggression and defying the will of the United Nations in Korea would amount to a confession of failure on the part of the United Nations and would greatly reduce the prospects for future successful action against aggression."

Recognition is, indeed, an instrument of national policy.

Boys Fined for Holding Beer Party in Car

Four Milwaukee boys were haled into municipal court today for holding a beer party in their car.

They are Gerald N. Berdell, 17, and Paul Hoffman, both 17, fined $15 for drinking beer in the car; Homer G. Bagley, 15, for driving the car carrying beer with minors present, and John W. Dunn, 17, $25 for throwing a beer can on the highway and $15 for drinking beer.

Judge Oscar Schmieg gave the boys credit for three days served in jail while awaiting trial.

They were arrested on Highway 41 in the town of Grand Chute Saturday night when a state policeman noticed an empty beer can thrown from the car. The boys told police they were on their way to camp near Shawano and had purchased the beer in Milwaukee.

May Postpone Fire Station For Few Years

Committee Suggests Delay for Section North of Highway

Purchase of a site for a northside neighborhood fire station may be postponed several years to await possible annexations in the town of Grand Chute north of Highway 41.

Such annexations might include the present town fire station which, members of the city council's public safety committee said Monday, would be more than adequate as a northside station.

There was some worry that delay might affect fire insurance premiums paid by Appleton residents, but, it was said, there have been enough improvements in fire-fighting facilities since the last rating to indicate an improvement in the city's rating.

Costs Nothing
The city is rated by fire underwriters of The Fire Insurance Rating Bureau, Milwaukee, a fire insurance rating and engineering organization supported by member fire insurance companies.

Rating costs the city nothing and is made periodically usually after an improvement program is complete. Generally, the higher the quality of protection, the better the rating and the lower the premium.

Cited as almost assuring improvement in the city's rating were the recent $750,000 additions to the water system, construction of a southside neighborhood fire station and purchase of a new aerial ladder truck.

The truck, due for delivery in mid-July, has been delivered by Peter Pirsch and Sons company, Kenosha, has notified Fire Chief Paul Neumann. It probably will be delivered in September.

Possible Sites
Should the committee drop the fire station site purchase for a few years, as was suggested, these offers of land would be shelved.

A 150 by 350-foot tract on N. Owassa street parallel to the railroad tracks and extending to N. Kenilworth avenue offered by Beck H. Goldbeck.

A 75 by 105-foot lot at the southwest corner of N. Meade street and E. McArthur street and two lots across the street, offered by Clifton Hughes.

The fourth and fifth lots south of Highway 41 on N. Meade, offered by Kermeth and Karlon Krick.

An 80 by 120-foot lot on E. Wisconsin avenue at N. Charlotte street, offered by Robert J. Kennedy, of Carroll and Carroll Realty Estate.

A lot at the northeast corner of N. Oneida street and E. McArthur and another on the east side of N. Meade near E. McArthur, offered by Robert Hoepfner.

Great Britain and some other governments recognized Peiping before the Korean war took place, but with the exception of pro-communist regimes in Europe and Asia or those that have some political affinity for Moscow, none of the other governments has extended recognition to red China's government since the United Nations intervened in Korea in 1950.

If a principle of moral force is swept aside — as would be the case if red China were given American recognition — aggression would be rewarded, instead of being punished, and the cause of world peace would suffer a setback.

Panel Talks on Care of Tires

Speakers Stress Safety Elements, Needed Inspections

Proper care of automobile tires as a factor in traffic safety and passing in over-taking vehicles on highways were discussed by the Outagamie Citizens' Safety conference at the courthouse Monday night.

Last year, in Wisconsin, nine fatal accidents were caused by defective tires. In 203 other crashes, tires were listed as the cause of the accident, Capt. Louis V. Versnik, 404 du Lac, director of the northeastern division of the state traffic patrol reported.

State laws do not require inspection of either vehicles or tires, but defects are called to the attention of motorists when discovered," Capt. Versnik said. However, inspection of school bus tires is compulsory, and the tires of all school buses operating in Outagamie county will be inspected Aug. 27th. The inspection will be made at Black Creek and five state traffic patrol officers will participate.

The weight carried by each wheel as well as horsepower has increased greatly in recent years, Sgt. George Else, county traffic patrol, another member of the panel, said.

Fred Froehlich, panel chairman, summed up the tire safety discussion by suggesting tires be inspected periodically, for uneven tread wear, bruises, cuts and fabric breaks; that the position of the tires be changed every 5,000 miles, with the front wheels moved to the rear and criss-crossed to the opposite sides; proper inflation to extend the life of the tires and for greater safety.

The next meeting of the citizens group will be Sept. 8. John W. Thompson, director of the driver licensing division of the state motor vehicle department, will speak on driver licensing.

used to buy the property isn't known.

Plans for the addition are being held up while the city waits for word on acquiring the ball park land. Mann said work would have to start soon if foundations are to be laid before the ground freezes.

Other Action
In other action, the board awarded the contract to supply half pints of milk in the schools to Utschig and Quaker dairies. They submitted identical low bids of 44 cents a half pint. Other bidders were Fairmont Foods company and Morning Glory Dairy Products.

Because the price is slightly less than last year and because federal aids will be 34 cents a pint, the price child must pay for five half-pints a week was cut from eight to seven cents.

Peerless Laundry and Dry Cleaners, 307 E. College avenue, was awarded the contract to launder school towels. Peerless and three other laundries entered low bids of 5 cents a pound, but Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth recommended Peerless because of past satisfactory service.

Knuth reported work on Madison Junior high and remodeling of McKinley school was progressing satisfactorily.

The education committee of the board set Sept. 4 for a meeting with the welfare committee of the Appleton Education association to hear recommendations by teachers for salary and other benefits for the 1959-60 school year. Such a meeting is usually held prior to budget discussions in the fall.

Mann said he still has four and paid costs for drunken-teaching positions to fill before school begins.

1 Denies, 1 Pays For Drunkenness
Donald Kain, 28, route 1, Menasha, this morning in municipal court denied a charge of drunkenness. Bond of $18.95 for trial Oct. 17 was set.

He was arrested by Appleton police Sunday on N. Walnut street.

Nathan Brisco, 24, route 1, New London was fined $20 for drunkenness. He was arrested in Bear Creek Monday night.

1 Dead, 8 Hurt As Truck Gets Out of Control
By The Associated Press
A runaway truck, pulling a bouncing house trailer, collided with three autos on a steep hill in western Wisconsin Monday, killing one person and injuring eight others.

The deaths raised Wisconsin's 1958 traffic fatality count to 449, compared with 498 on this date last year.

Killed in the crash was Richard L. Hookie, 21, Lake Preston, S.D., a passenger in the truck.

The accident occurred on U.S. 14-64, two miles east of Coon Valley in Vernon county.

Dr. R. A. Starr, county coroner, said the truck was descending the hill when it apparently went out of control. He said the trailer began to whip sideways behind the truck and slammed against three oncoming autos.

George Schick, 19, Winona, Minn., the truck driver, was treated for minor injuries.

Serious Condition
The trailer first hit a car occupied by Mrs. Kathryn Schomberg, 23, and her husband, David, 24, of Durand. They were hospitalized at La Crosse where his condition was termed serious.

The trailer then crushed the auto carrying the John E. Voss family of Ridgewood, N.J.

Voss was hospitalized at Madison with a skull fracture. His 34-year-old son was hospitalized at Viroqua in critical condition with a skull fracture. Hospitalized at Viroqua with less serious injuries were Voss' wife, daughter and father.

A third auto was knocked off the road, but its occupants were unharmed.

Fall's Bright Hues Repeat In Wardrobes

Boys Choose Vivid Colors for Their Jackets, Coats

With the close of summer comes teenage boys beginning the new school year in colorful new jackets and coats to augment their wardrobe.

To ward off the chill of a brisk fall day, vivid wind breakers in cotton poplin or nylon fabrics will give just enough warmth in the early morning and during the fall evenings, as energetic boys troop to and from school.

Bright red, light blue, yellow, and light green are the favored colors. For variety, plaid light weight jackets are chosen by fashion-conscious high schoolers.

More popular with young men are washable poplin raincoats, styled with ultra-straight lines. They have become all-purpose coats and are worn at casual and more dressy functions.

Durable Garments

Teens this year choose, happily for mom, the sturdy, durable and easy to care for outer garments with good looks. The cotton cloth jackets in wind breaker style and in the longer car-coat version are washed with ease and retain their neat appearance.

For colder days, shaggy or lion jackets set the pace and have real resistance to the bitter cold. This year jackets will be detailed in leather and knit at collars, cuffs and pockets.

The teenager will be attired in a top coat of woolly tweed or plain tan, navy, or grey, according to his preference, for more dressy events such as dates and dances.

To top off the picture of a well-dressed high schooler, a cap with a strap in the back, definitely the Ivy league look, styled in flannel, checks and plaids, is donned.

Fall Sports Togs Stress 'Togetherness'

Fall sports clothes concentrate on separates that are meant to stay together.

This all-of-a-piece look often extends from tip to tie, from cap to tights. Two-piece slim skirt and overblouse or gored trapeze skirt and short top combinations—the sports-wear expressions of the chemise and the trapeze—tend to be carefully coordinated to wear together, and to mix with other separates.

There has seldom been a year when jumpers are so important. Every sportswear house features at least a couple—often one in slim, low-waisted chemise style, another in gored trapeze, lined or cut to flare from under the arms.

Sweaters never looked so different and so fashion-forward in school girl sizes. The fall crop is extremely chemise-styled and sweaters of hip-line length are important newcomers. Bulky stitch and novelty knit are everywhere.

Pants are pet fashions for the school crowd for after-school wear and at home relaxing. The variation gives a wide choice and coordinated tops are important part of the trouser look.

Young Bookworms, Karen Schultz, 4, and Philip Gloudemans, 6, are among the many thousands of Fox Cities youngsters who will trudge off to class this fall. Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schultz, Neenah, is pretty in an old-fashioned colonial print in red. White linen weave collar and cuffs edged in lace give the cotton a high fashion look. Her young friend who helps Karen with the hard words has donned an Ivy league-influenced red and white checked shirt with wash'n wear gray pleated slacks. For cool mornings, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gloudemans, 522 N. Union street, has chosen a warm tarpon cloth jacket lined in nylon and styled in a miniature plaid. Karen's shoes are brown and white saddle oxfords and Philip's are the popular brown oxford with rounded moccasin toe. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Younger Boys Swing Toward Bright Colored, Dressy Wear

Bright colored, sharply styled clothing will be worn more this school year by boys in the 8 to 12 year group than ever before. Blue jeans and plain white T-shirts are being snubbed by most of the clothes-minded young men.

A survey of clothing stores reveals boys in the intermediate group now follow the idea that "the brighter the clothes, the better."

Red, blue, charcoal, black and beige polished cotton slacks, metallic and Ivy league style sport shirts, and jackets of plaid, plain and 2-toned colors will be available for the younger set.

To hold up the slacks, stores are offering narrow plastic belts of silver and gold with a double buckle. Stretch socks in the smaller sizes will be on the market, also.

Sweater Category
In the sweater category, there are slip-on orlons which come in all colors and are washable. They come in the crew and V-neck and have long or short sleeves.

To supplement the intermediate boy's wardrobe, Ivy league caps can be worn, along with raincoats of yellow plastic with hoods to match.

Along with the fancy sport shirts, the younger boy can buy smart, French cuff white dress shirts for Sunday wear and for when he feels like donning a tie.

Coveralls also will be replaced by the ever popular corduroy slacks—nice looking as well as durable. The wash and wear Ivy league slacks will come with both flap pockets and buckles in the back.

Nylon and cotton washable jackets of 2-toned fabrics will provide comfort and warmth until cold weather comes.

Many jackets are of the reversible style. If the young man desires to dress like his dad he will have no trouble this fall finding the necessary clothes.

For an everyday coat, the young girl probably would like the traditional double-breasted boy coat, popular with her older sister. These coats come in a variety of solid colors, plaids and tweeds, and the standard camel hair.

If one coat has to serve for everyday wear and dress-up, the boy coat is the answer. The style conscious sub-teen girl will use a dressy hat, gloves, neck scarf and purse to accent this simply designed garment.

Car Coat Casual

The car coat, with hip to three-quarter length design, is the back-to-school coat. It serves for casual and sporty occasions. In poplin or light weight washable nylon, it features bulky knit trim at the neck, sleeves and pockets.

These sturdy coats will have a large bulky knit collar and, in some styles, a detachable hood. They will serve the sub-teener from brisk to very cold weather.

In early fall and Indian summer weather, a lightweight blazer will be a choice for school day wear. Blazers are in wool and basic white, grays, red and blue.

The beige, poplin, all-purpose trench coats will meet de-demands for rainwear. They are simply styled with the raglan sleeve, yoke detail and double or single-breasted front. The smart young miss will purchase a matching hat to complete the outfit.

Accessories Important

The chemise or cloche will lead the fashion parade in hats. Fox Cities stores will be showing them in jersey, wools, felts and furcloth. They will be in figured materials or in solid colors with contrasting bands of ribbon, feathers or beaded work.

The other prevalent style will be the modified sailor hat in winter fabrics to accent dressier coats.

To complete her ensemble, the sub-teen girl will find a wide selection of gloves to match her outfits, and she will want a smart clutch bag purse for dressy occasions.

The chemise style will feature the slim, straight and simple design with the back band. Unlike the trapeze coats, the new chemise look in outer wear will not fit over the very bouffant dressy dresses. Instead, its design will accent the slim look with vertical lines and contrasting materials to increase the long torso fashion.

The modern young miss will be wise in her selection of such coats in tweeds, herringbone, plaids, suedes and broadclothes. Color-wise, the grays and new black oak shade will be first choice, since they blend well with the bright fall colors and figured materials.

Fall Coats Feature Geometric Designs

Chemise, Trapeze Lines are Outerwear Styles for Sub-Teens

Chemises and trapezes will be geometric designs in outer wear for sub-teens' fall apparel. This year's styles are flattering, easy to wear and designed to wear through many seasons.

For the mother with the unlimited budget, four basic coats will answer for any sub-teen's cool-weather activities. They will include a dress coat, the traditional boy coat, rainwear and the car coat.

The new look is a must in dress coat selection. Trapeze designs will have full backs, billowing from a yoke detail or empire waist. Simplicity keynotes these new fashions, with a tailored or rounded collar in the same or contrasting material, slash pockets, attractive buttons and simple belt detailing.

Chemise Look in Coats

The chemise style will feature the slim, straight and simple design with the back band. The car coat, with hip to three-quarter length design, is the back-to-school coat. It serves for casual and sporty occasions. In poplin or light weight washable nylon, it features bulky knit trim at the neck, sleeves and pockets.

These sturdy coats will have a large bulky knit collar and, in some styles, a detachable hood. They will serve the sub-teener from brisk to very cold weather.

In early fall and Indian summer weather, a lightweight blazer will be a choice for school day wear. Blazers are in wool and basic white, grays, red and blue.

The beige, poplin, all-purpose trench coats will meet de-demands for rainwear. They are simply styled with the raglan sleeve, yoke detail and double or single-breasted front. The smart young miss will purchase a matching hat to complete the outfit.

Accessories Important

The chemise or cloche will lead the fashion parade in hats. Fox Cities stores will be showing them in jersey, wools, felts and furcloth. They will be in figured materials or in solid colors with contrasting bands of ribbon, feathers or beaded work.

The other prevalent style will be the modified sailor hat in winter fabrics to accent dressier coats.

To complete her ensemble, the sub-teen girl will find a wide selection of gloves to match her outfits, and she will want a smart clutch bag purse for dressy occasions.

The chemise style will feature the slim, straight and simple design with the back band. Unlike the trapeze coats, the new chemise look in outer wear will not fit over the very bouffant dressy dresses. Instead, its design will accent the slim look with vertical lines and contrasting materials to increase the long torso fashion.

The modern young miss will be wise in her selection of such coats in tweeds, herringbone, plaids, suedes and broadclothes. Color-wise, the grays and new black oak shade will be first choice, since they blend well with the bright fall colors and figured materials.

For an everyday coat, the young girl probably would like the traditional double-breasted boy coat, popular with her older sister. These coats come in a variety of solid colors, plaids and tweeds, and the standard camel hair.

If one coat has to serve for everyday wear and dress-up, the boy coat is the answer. The style conscious sub-teen girl will use a dressy hat, gloves, neck scarf and purse to accent this simply designed garment.

Chemises and trapezes will be geometric designs in outer wear for sub-teens' fall apparel. This year's styles are flattering, easy to wear and designed to wear through many seasons.

For the mother with the unlimited budget, four basic coats will answer for any sub-teen's cool-weather activities. They will include a dress coat, the traditional boy coat, rainwear and the car coat.

The new look is a must in dress coat selection. Trapeze designs will have full backs, billowing from a yoke detail or empire waist. Simplicity keynotes these new fashions, with a tailored or rounded collar in the same or contrasting material, slash pockets, attractive buttons and simple belt detailing.

David likes his outfit because of its grown-up Ivy league look. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Henning, 819 E. ## Guidance Offered in Transition Periods

Public Schools Give Orientation to Youngsters in New Academic Stages

The transition periods from the intermediate three level to junior high school and from ninth grade to senior high school are important ones for youngsters.

It means the student is entering entirely new stages of his academic development and it requires adjustment to the new school situations.

In Appleton, all intermediate three students and ninth graders are offered special orientation programs the spring before the September they start in their new schools.

Last spring an innovation was offered on the intermediate three level—3-way conferences between the teacher, student and parents. The program was carried on the year before on an experimental basis at Franklin school and, because it was felt to be a success there, it was extended throughout the school system.

The 3-way conference serves as a final evaluation of the child's work before he enters junior high school. Although conferences between parents and teachers have been in force since the continuous progress system was begun in Appleton, this was the first year children were included on the intermediate three level.

Because of its success, the 3-way conference may be extended to other intermediate levels in the future, Miss Martha Sorensen, director of elementary education, says.

Almost Unanimous

A questionnaire sent to parents after the Franklin school experiment brought almost universal support for the program. Of 380 surveys sent out, 272 were returned, and, of those returned, 268 parents said they liked the idea.

When a child is ready to enter senior high school, he, too, is the subject of special orientation programs. Panels composed of Appleton High school students visit the junior highs and discuss problems which may arise in a sophomore's life. They explain life at AHS and offer suggestions on studies and extra-curriculars.

Jean Ann Bauer, Donald W. Miller Repeat Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bauer, 1610 E. Main street, Little Chute, have announced the July 22 marriage of their daughter, Jean Ann, to Donald W. Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller, Peoria, Ill.

The young couple was married by Judge Stanley Stadl in his chambers at the Outagamie courthouse. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Roblee attended the bride and bridegroom.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Michigan. They are making their home at 517 N. Durkee street.

Miss Joan Gilbert Concert Performer

The Appletonian, who plays the violin, performed Beethoven's Sonata in G Minor, Opus 5, No. 2, assisted by Alan Barkin, New York City, pianist.

Coeds' Coats Show New Fall Styles

Chemise, Trapeze Lines Repeat Those of Dresses

New lines over new lines—this is the coat preview for campus wear this year.

And the new lines for coats repeat the new lines of the dresses they cover, with the chemise and trapeze getting the fashion nod. Boy coats are back, and this year their slim lines and low belts bring to mind the influence of the free and easy chemise.

The straight line often features a low-set inserted hip-band or slotted self-belt, with a full scythe back for a variation.

The trapeze line in the coat is the swing at its fullest, and it has a narrow shoulder line, narrower and tighter sleeves and sometimes an empire waist, sometimes a waist where nature put it.

Collars are large—square, circular and notched or very small. Details are many—big buttons, self bows and big pockets.

New Big Plaids Tweeds and solids are predominant, but new are big plaids, similar to the blanket plaids seen in fall skirts and slacks. Browns for coats range from deep grayed tones to light caramel and camel, blues are intense, greens tend to bluish shades and reds are of all kinds.

Fur trim appears again, especially on big collars. Fake furs for college wear include racuna, a make-believe racoon, and white, shaggy polar-bear in snug wrap-around styles.

The standby sweater is longer and longer until it, too, becomes a coat. The length is three-quarter, the look is bulky and the colors are dramatic.

Car coats often are styled in corduroy, which is good for nearly everything this year. They, too, often feature big collars, low pocket detail and sometimes a low belt for a chemise look.

Jackets generally have a blouson or cardigan look, with

Pre-School Health Aids Children's Adjustment

Nurses Advise Medical Dental Exams Before Youngsters Begin Kindergarten

It's a major step, and often a difficult one, when a child waves goodbye to his mother and turns into the kindergarten room for his first day of school.

That first day can be a miserable or happy one, depending upon the pre-kindergarten conditioning the youngster has received at home.

Public school nurses say it is never too early to begin getting a child ready for school for his readiness depends on many experiences from birth. Because the child is an individual in his own right, he needs certain things in order to grow and develop as he should. Love, understanding and acceptance, for instance, help him to become happy, wholesome and well-adjusted, the nurses explain.

Watch your child, they advise, for he may need more reassurance and expression of affection.

Encouragement of such good health habits as handwashing, toiletting, use of handkerchief, sufficient hours of sleep and proper eating will help protect his health, they note, and through daily repetition of good habits, he will learn to protect his own health.

Nurses also suggest that the seven basic food groups be included in the child's daily diet since his eating habits will be influenced by his mother's selection of foods and by the family's attitude toward different foods.

Seek regular medical examinations for the child, is another recommendation. "Every child should be protected against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus," the health workers contend.

"Your doctor will want to immunize and vaccinate him during his first or second year. Many problems may be avoided by regular health supervision. When illness or accidents occur, it is important to call your physician promptly.

Dental Visits

"Take your child regularly to the family dentist. Care of his first teeth is essential. Neglected decay interferes with the best development of permanent teeth and healthy teeth aid good health and approve the child's appearance."

If the child reaches school age free from health handicaps and with good health habits, he will learn more easily and will adjust better to his school situation, nurses point out.

During registration days last spring, parents were given an opportunity to meet teachers, administrators and coordinators as well as health personnel to discuss problems which may crop up in a child's early school life.

At that time, health people discussed the importance of continuous health supervision and the need for medical and dental examinations. An examination during the summer months provides time for correction of health problems in fall, they said.

"Health supervision and check-up exams during the pre-school years will help the child to a good start in his new school adventure," nurses conclude.

Easy-Reach Closet

In most closets, hanging poles are higher than they need to be, and shelves are so lofty that it's an athletic str-r-etch to reach them. Especially now that skirts are shorter, the hanging pole can come down, perhaps 'way down so there's room for an additional, easily reached shelf.

This redesigned closet pulls the pole down to size, adds the shelf and both a small drawer chest and a tall hide-away for shoes. Thus almost everything is at normal reaching level — dresses, blouses and jackets hang shoulder high, most hat boxes lift out

Two New Home Permits Issued

Little Chute — Two new home permits were issued in the past month raising the total for the year to 14, according to building inspector, Henry Dercks.

Total estimated cost for the 14 homes this year is $180,000.

Permits were issued to Edmund Rosenow for a $16,200 home at 200 Fillmore street and to Theodore Verkullen for a $10,000 home at 1204 Hoover street.

The inspector also reported that he issued five permits for new garages. Total estimated cost is $3,500.

Three permits for remodeling work amounting to $1,800 also were given out.

Fireman Uses Artificial Respiration, Saves Dog

Milwaukee — On Spotty, a mongrel dog, can thank fireman Gordon Rotta's knowledge of artificial respiration for his life.

Rotta, fighting a fire in a home, found Spotty unconscious under a bed. He carried the pooch outside and applied artificial respiration. Pretty soon Spotty moved his head, rolled his eyes and began breathing naturally.

"By the time we had our hoses rolled up, Spotty was up and around and in pretty good shape," Rotta said.

Trend in Shoes For Children To Neat, Trim

Toes More Tapered, Flexible Soles Cut Close to Contour

Children's shoes will reflect a trend toward neater styling, softer construction and a slimmer, more lightweight look this fall and winter.

Toes are more tapered and flexible soles are cropped closely to the contour of the shoe instead of being widely extended as in previous years.

Tops in fashion for the pre-teenage girl is the smart strap shoe — the strap can be worn around the ankle or buckled behind the heel. This is seen in soft and supple smooth leathers or shiny patent leathers and in a wide range of new colors.

Next to the swivel strap are the T-strap and instep strap styles, perfect for classroom or parties. These also are in scores of colors.

Considering silhouettes, the flattened and gently squared toe in shoes for boys and girls is designed mainly for classroom or dress wear and perfectly depicts the neat look being adapted in children's shoes.

Streamlined styles, flexibility and sturdiness are important in boys' shoes for fall and winter. There's the popular slip-on in finely textured leather, the fashionable 3-eyelet tie with squared-off toe, and the conventional wing-tip shoe that takes on a lighter, new look with lightweight flexible leather soles.

Another popular shoe for the young boy is the sturdy "chukka" boot in soft, brushed leather that's perfect for active wear in all kinds of weather. These, too, feature lightweight leather, or crepe, soles for a slimmer, neater look.

Once featured with a zipper, the "shu-lok" styles are appearing without zippers or laces, another ideal slip-on shoe.

Strong, Sturdy Shoes are the best choice for the school-age youngsters who spend long active hours on their feet. The new supple leathers are particularly good for the growing child. The natural flexibility of fabric allows young muscles to form without cramping. ## Your Problems Naive Mama Can't Fool Child With 'Store-Bought' Baby Story

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl who is 11 years old and my problem is my mother. She still wants me to believe she bought me in the baby department at a downtown store.

If you think I am kidding, please don't. I know better Ann Landers than to believe this story. In fact, when I was eight years old some neighbor girls told me all about everything. What makes me mad is that my mother is trying to keep me an infant forever.

I have asked her fifty times to sit down with me and tell me things a girl should know. But she gets red in the face and sticks to that dumb baby department story. It turns me up. What's the matter with my mother and where should I go for information?

—BOUGHT-IN-A STORE BABY
Your mother, poor thing, is still very much a little girl herself. Mothers who try to palm off store stories and similar versions make a big mistake.

The beginning of life is the most beautiful of God's miracles. It can be presented in understandable language for every age level. Since your mother is incapable of discussing this subject with you intelligently, ask your family doctor to recommend reading material for an 11-year-old.

If by next year your mother is still sticking to her department story version, ask her why people who want a boy and get a girl, don't take the baby back and exchange it.

dously. When people say they can't afford it, they make me laugh. These same neurotics throw away a fantastic amount of money on booze, night-clubs, pills, doctor bills, divorce, separate maintenance and alimony—and their lives are still a lousy mess.

MARY ELLEN.

Dear Mary Ellen: Amen. DEAR ANN: Our son, 21, is engaged to a 17-year-old girl who lives on a farm 25 miles from this city.

For the last year he's been going to her home every Friday and returning Sunday. He spends every holiday with her and last year he was there 121 days out of 365. I told him this looks cheap but he says I'm old-style.

The girl's folks offered them $150 to pass up the wedding reception. They accepted the money. We feel this is unfair to our family and friends, as the wedding will be very small.

My life and I think the girl should go to work for a year and get a broader outlook on life before she marries. The boy insists they know what they are doing. (P.S. I am undecided as to whether or not to attend the wedding.)—I.D.

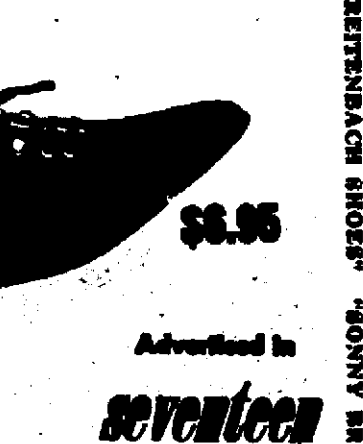

Your son is of legal age, so save your pipes and let this know-it-all punk get his humps the hard way.

Of course he should not be spending weekends at the girl's house. If he has no respect for his own reputation he should at least consider hers. (This girl has parents ????)

Seventeen is terribly young for marriage. I agree a year (or two or three) is

Lovely Free Look Scheduled to Hit Campus Dresses

New Chemise, Trapeze Lines, Fabrics, Tones in Coed Clothes

BY MICHELE MATTHEWS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It's a lovely free look that will hit campuses country-wide this year.

Something new has been added to lines, fabrics, patterns and colors and it all makes a grand total bound to appeal to coeds headed for college at any point of the compass.

The two new silhouettes — chemise and trapeze — seem to have injected just the right amount of inspiration for the dress-up and date clothes vital to the college wardrobe.

Those who predicted a short life for the chemise evidently didn't consult those who wore it and enjoyed its comfort, for the recently-radical look set the stage for a freer fashion style.

Coeds can ease into this freedom and flattery in transitional dresses of cotton knit, styled with slim skirts and soft overblouse tops in lively and subdued paisley prints in autumn tones.

Cotton Knit Chemise
The cotton knit goes chemise, too, in free-falling styles belted low and kept casual with V-necks and dickey effects. Dark cotton prints, especially stripes and paisleys, remain hard to beat in the awkward span from pastel cottons to wools, but even they are hit by the lower belt influence this year.

Once the transition is made, the choice seems unlimited. Fashion designers and leaders cite the lithe and swinging lines and the shifting, and particularly ascending, waistline as items of importance to ladies from college age up.

The relaxed looks of the lithe line are sometimes variations on the new theme called chemise, sometimes years old as in the empire waistline. The waist is up for empire and chasuble styles, down for blouson, bubble and scythe with its full, billowing back.

The trapeze, a compromise between eased sheath and full lines, seems headed for campus activities, too. It's found in afternoon, date and dance dresses designed for the college miss.

New Fabrics
Add new fabrics and touch up with bright new tones and the fashion formula is balanced. Notable here, as in new fall sweaters, are shaggy brushed wools and looped mohairs, and wide wale corduroy is another to watch.

Rough tweeds, bright and muted plaids, houndstooth checks, printed velveteens and jerseys and the basic gray and camel flannels also are slated for college wardrobe popularity.

Harvest colors, rich and vivid, sound nearly as good as they look — fireberry red, bitersweet, mustard, russet, brick, amber, russet, sienna, spice — and they're mixed with soft greens and bright blues.

Among the most exciting are new soufflé wools with all the versatility of knits, well

Appleton Coeds Wear Dresses with new relaxed lines for a walk on the Lawrence college campus. Miss Marge Pruett, left, 919 W. Robert avenue, wears a 2-piece plaid gingham in shades of lavender, green, rose and blue. The long top falls easily, with large pockets at the hip and the skirt flouncing below. A light-weight rayon and acetate dress in black and white plaid is the choice of Miss Mary Becker, center, 623 S. Mueller street. It features the slim skirt and bloused back popular in fall styles. Miss Patti Utschig, right, 716 E. Glendale avenue, wears a dress of silk and cotton tweed in red and black with a relaxed back and bow trim. All of the girls will begin their sophomore years at college this fall, Miss Pruett at Oshkosh State college, Miss Becker at Northwestern university and Miss Utschig at St. Mary of the Woods. ## Include New Neighbors In Party

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: We are finding the following situation distressing. As a friendly gesture, we called on some new neighbors. They returned our call. Since that time they have invited a few of us who called on them for cocktails. We found we had little in common with them and didn't care to encourage further friendship. We ourselves are now giving a large cocktail party, all of our friends and most of our neighbors. Can we ignore the new ones?

Answer: If you were giving a very small party, then it would be quite all right not to ask them. But since you are giving so large and general a party and including most of your neighbors, you would certainly hurt their feelings by leaving them out. After this once you need not ask them again—certainly, not to any small parties.

Anniversary Gift
Dear Mrs. Post: What should one do about taking a present to a party actually in celebration of a wedding anniversary when no mention of the anniversary was made on the invitation?

Answer: Unless they are specifically invited to come to a wedding anniversary, few, if any, would take presents. I think even those who know would be more likely to send a present to the anniversary couple rather than take one to the party.

Transportation Costs
Dear Mrs. Post: When a young man invites a girl from another city to visit at his home, should he pay her transportation? He believes the young woman thinks he will reimburse her and he's a little worried about it.

Answer: She should neither expect nor permit her host or his family to pay her traveling expenses unless his mother sent her a ticket in advance. At any rate, it would be very incorrect for him to reimburse her.

Agency Help Reduces Risk in Adopting Child

BY ANGELO PATRI

Adopting a child is always a risk, but if he is selected with the help of an authorized agency the risk is greatly reduced. The agency carefully screens both the adopting parents and the child they hope to get so that both parties to the agreement will be happy.

The heredity of the child is vastly important. Sound mental and physical health of the child must be assured and the agency will vouch for that, so insuring the new parents against a mentally defective or potentially helpless child. That assurance alone is worth enduring the slow, careful and so-anxious procedures of the agency.

Taking an infant from parents who declare they do not want it and never will claim it is a risk that wise people will not take, however tempting the offer may be. Again and again the parents who fall for this bargain have bitterly repented doing so when the real parents change their minds and reclaim the child, with the courts deciding in their favor. Even worse trouble has been inflicted on the adoptive parents when the real mother or father began visiting or demanding payment to keep away. This the agencies prevent by keeping the whole transaction secret so that both sides are unacquainted with the details of the adoption.

Seem Too Careful

I agree that the agencies often seem too careful — when they wait to find a child whose race and religion, whose hair and eyes match those of the adoptive parents, quibble about the ages of the hopeful applicants and all that — but think a bit. All that is important, isn't it? Important to this child in years to come? And to the family into which the child is to enter? Isn't it better to be safe than sorry?

Once the child is secured and belongs to the family the years of his growth and development stretch ahead. If the parents are fortunate there is no unusual difficulty about this. But suppose the child's heredity shows him markedly different from the vision his adoptive parents cherished?

A certain acceptance must come in here. Maybe a scholar was hoped for and no scholar is present; maybe an artist was hoped for and no sign of him shows in this sturdy youngster who prefers a hammer to a brush. Or the other way about: a usual happy-go-lucky was wanted and here is a serious student or artist. Make the best of it as long as he is mentally sound and physically fit. He will do. His new parents are lucky in the chance they took.

Kimberly—A building permit for the new 14-classroom addition to the Kimberly public school has been issued by Building Inspector Eugene Hietpas.

A. H. Nimmer Construction, Kaukauna, has the general contract for the structure. Cost of the general construction work is estimated at $254,700.

The addition will be built east and south of the present school building and will face S. Maple street. It will include classrooms and administrative offices. The classrooms will be used for elementary grades. Work is expected to be completed by the 1959 school term.

Two new home permits also were issued, the inspector reported. This hikes the total for year to 30 with the estimated cost figure rising to $382,200.

Latest permits were issued to Tony Polman for a $13,800 home at 903 Fourth street and to Gordon Van Dinter for a $10,000 home at 201 S. John street.

In addition there were 11 permits for garages issued which amounted to an estimated cost total of $8,500. Two remodeling permits for $3,000 work were issued.

Relaxed Silhouette Cues New Styles in Fall Coats for Little Girls

Waistline Slips Up, Down With Introduction of Chemise, Trapeze

Little Miss Muffet will be in step with the brisk fashion pace of autumn when she returns to classes in her chemise or trapeze dress. And like her playmates, her coat will be cued to the relaxed silhouette of underneath fashions.

Manufacturers have coordinated new coat designs to the season's trends and have come up with artfully modified versions of the straight-line chemise and the wide-skirted trapeze. These two styles are the headlines on display racks which also show the tailored boy coat, the dressy princess silhouette and the casual car coat.

Introduction of the two major silhouettes has brought a radical change in styling: the waistline can be found anywhere between the shoulder yoke and thigh.

Both new silhouettes are extremely flattering to the waistless figure of the young girl. The loose, vertical line of the chemise allows plenty of freedom, at the same time cleverly conceals the absence of a narrow waist. The outward flare of the trapeze, long a favorite in children's coats, is equally becoming.

Within the framework of the silhouette, back interest is most important. The backward look takes on many views: bows, inverted pleats,

Sept. 24 Nuptial Date Chosen by Shirley Hietpas

Sept. 24 nuptials are being planned by Miss Shirley Hietpas, whose engagement to Robert L. Schmidt, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hietpas, 606 Jefferson street, Little Chute.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Schmidt, 111 E. Lindbergh street, will claim his bride-elect in ceremonies at St. John Catholic church, Little Chute.

Miss Hietpas received her diploma from St. John Catholic High school, Little Chute, and trained at Accredited School of Beauty Culture, Green Bay. She is employed at Modern Beauty shop, Appleton.

Mrs. Schmidt graduated from Appleton High school and is a senior at Milwaukee School of Engineering. He is a member of Kappa Eta Kappa fraternity.

Lawrence chapel again will be the site of the annual book sale staged by Appleton branch of American Association of University Women. Mrs. O. C. Boldt is chairman of the Oct. 9 to 11 sale.

Plans for the event were charted when the fall agenda was discussed Monday night by branch board members who met with Mrs. Ralph Grobe, 844 E. Eldorado street, for a buffet supper. Study chairmen submitted reports and the Mmes. Robert Beebe, membership chairman, and Mrs. William Arnold, program chairman, explained respective programs.

AAUW Sets Book Sale for Oct. 9-11

Coat Length Mixed

As the waistline moves on the figure, coat length has gone up in many cases, exposing more leg length to chill breezes. Young ladies will don slacks for late fall, with the more adventurous appearing for class in color coordinated knee socks and the fashionable long tights in stretch nylon.

Slacks are generally available in wool lined with flannel or in nylon lined with quilted nylon. The latter have proved special favorites with mothers who can launder them after school, dry overnight and have ready for the next day's classes.

Completing the coat picture are the new fall hats, which recall the axiom that a well dressed young miss wears a hat and gloves for dress occasions.

Cloche, Breton Seen

The cloche, darling of the Roaring Twenties, returns in new glory, indicating the chemise's influence. It's a head-hugging style, invariably found with a wide ribbon band in grosgrain and satin. Vying for importance are the bretons, with upswapped brims so flattering to youthful faces.

There's a richness and depth to these new hats which are shown extensively in plushy pile, with beige tones important in these velvety styles.

Also flattering for the young lady are the brief felts and the gay berets. Dressier are the tiny hats with v-cut and scalloped profile brims or the hat piped with velvet. Colors are varied with hues for every outfit but special emphasis on the neutrals, ranging from off-white to the warmer tones of fall browns.

Post Office to Conduct Survey

Appleton postal patrons will be asked their opinions on post office window hours in a survey to be taken this month. Postmaster Francis Sumnicht said today.

The post office is primarily interested in finding out if businessmen want lobby windows to open at 7:45 in the morning instead of 9 o'clock, Sumnicht stated. He indicated the change would be made if enough businessmen are in favor of it.

Stiffer Watch Of Insecticides By State Urged

Proposed Code Could Affect Spraying In Appleton

A code to provide stiffer control of insecticides used in non-farm areas was proposed to three state agencies today. It would affect the pest-killing "fogging" operations conducted by the cities of Appleton and New London.

The code was drafted by a joint committee of the state board of health, board of agriculture and conservation commission members.

It is the outgrowth of complaints last year to the conservation department that song birds were being killed as a result of Dutch elm disease spraying in southeastern counties.

Opposition Sure

The code provides regulations similar to those proposed earlier this year and criticized by municipalities as being too stiff and by wildlife enthusiasts as being too lenient.

Atty. Gen. Stewart Honeck has ruled the state could regulate spraying in cities and villages, clearing the way for adoption of a stiffer code.

The League of Wisconsin Municipalities, irked with this ruling, has announced it will ask the 1956 legislature to make it clear the regulations do not apply to municipalities.

The code provides six specified chemicals could be authorized for spraying in the Fox Cities half of the state from Oct. 15 to April 16.

Like Appleton's

The chemicals are DDT, arsenate of lead, chlordane, lime sulphur, malathion and methoxychlor, not necessarily the superior chemicals, the joint committee said.

However, authorization would have to be obtained for their use during the rest of the year in quantities of more than a pound per acre.

A permit would be needed for all other chemicals in whatever amount and whatever time of year.

Appleton uses a near standard mixture which includes DDT solution (25 per cent) in its mist blowing fogging machine. A 26.6 per cent DDT solution is the type most often used for Dutch elm control.

Mrs. Remter has filed divorce action against her husband.

These Days

U. S. Foreign Policy Moralistic With Peace Motive, Sokolsky Says

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York — It used to be said that the trouble with the United States was that it had no foreign policy.

That was back in the days when this country was accused of arrogant isolationism. Then in the administrations of Woodrow Wilson to Dwight D. Eisenhower we became more and more concerned in the affairs of Europe, Asia and Africa until we became world leaders and found ourselves supporting some nations while opposing others.

The development of policy usually is based on self-interest, enlightened or otherwise. The assumption of other nations is that a foreign policy is based on self-interest. But the United States cannot have a foreign policy based on self-interest because this country has no vital interests abroad. The Monroe doctrine, for instance, could be construed as being somewhat concerned with self-interest, but John Hay's "Open Door Policy" was of greater value to Great Britain than to the United States.

When a nation attempts to base its foreign policy on good-will, on moral postulates, it arouses the suspicions of other nations who do not quite understand the underlying Calvinism of the American point of view. Thus Max Freedman, the Washington correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, raises a very interesting point when he reported to his newspaper:

Something Wrong?

"At his news conference President Eisenhower was asked a question which echoed the doubts and anxieties in many minds. Was there something fundamentally wrong with American foreign policy? Why were there so many explosions of anger or impatience, in so many diverse places, against the United States? The president's reply, as so often happens these days, was a mixture of wisdom and error. He spoke in the best American tradition when he said that we cannot make ourselves the boss, whether it be of a country in Africa or anywhere else. We have got to be partners in good faith. But he refused to admit that there might be anything wrong in the purposes of American policy, and he even hesitated to acknowledge important defects in the execution of that policy."

American leadership is in direct succession to British leadership. The collapse of the British empire and of Great Britain as a primary economic and military power forced the United States into a position for which this country was unprepared by tradition and interests. We lacked the trained men to take care of all the new activities which world leadership required; we lacked the pressing need to do all the things forced upon us. The American people were neither proud of nor bothered about the new role in international relations.

The reason for American popular apathy is that no self-interest is involved. We are not building an empire. We seek no territory. We have no aristocracy to export as governors and generals. We can invest our surplus capital in countries not under our control more effectively than those under our control because of the tax factors. We are not bound by linguistic ties or cultural associations. Most of us speak English of one sort or another; but we also have become accustomed to the fifty or more languages and literatures which our immigrant ancestors brought to this country. More of our population is of German than of British origin.

Without Purpose

When there is no self-interest, an ideological position must prevail; for when man's actions are without cause they are also without purpose. What the United States has consistently sought in its foreign policy is a road to peace. This country has never gained an advantage from war. Except that we added some territory in the Indian wars; most of the additions to our territory were by purchase and consent rather than by war. Texas came into the union neither by purchase nor by war, but by accession of the Lone Star republic. Territories such as Cuba and the Philippines we really gave their independence, although it might have been better for them had they remained within the United States.

The principal market for the produce of our farms and factories remains the United States, both exports and imports being a small phase of our economy. The domestic market is so huge because of high wages and a high standard of living among our people, requiring huge expenditures which in the aggregate produce just under $400,000,000 of national income.

As peace then is our motive and as we have no imperialistic objectives, our foreign policy becomes a moralistic one and can only be implemented satisfactorily by one who applies the natural law which is usually limited in individuals to the affairs of nations. John Foster Dulles is superbly suited for this role and is disliked for it, as Carver Nation was disliked for breaking up saloons.

Of course, we are partners in good faith, but it remains difficult for an American to understand why one people should want to govern another or why one people should want to expand its sway over the whole earth. We simply think that they are crazy.

Thomson will be the featured speaker at the Outagamie county Republican picnic at Black Creek beginning at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles, Ronald Steink, Milwaukee, a candidate for the U. S. senate and county candidates also will attend the picnic.

A country band will play at the picnic and lunch will be served. Harvey A. Buntrock, Appleton, is general chairman.

Thomson will speak at the Winnebago county GOP corn roast which starts at 6 o'clock Monday evening in Winnebago. He will spend Monday in Outagamie and Winnebago counties.

Report Upturn In Employment Of 408 Persons

is not expected that the number of replacements needed will be as great as usual but will still be significant.

The demand for workers for the first time in many months exceeded that of a corresponding period last year. New openings totaled 433 during June and July as against 348 for the same period in 1957. However, this was due in a large part to the caution with which most employers approached their need for summer workers.

A comparison of new openings from April through July shows 681 such openings in 1958 compared with 733 in 1957. While employment prospects for unskilled and entry level workers in the near future are not good by standards of the last several years they do continue to look brighter for the next few months than during the first half of 1958.

Supply Drops
After reaching a high point of 1,106 at the end of June, the supply of workers had begun to diminish, dropping to 909 at the end of July, and is expected to show a substantial drop by September.

The increase in June was largely due to the entrance of school youth into the labor market. The number of youth under 19 years of age included in the total is much smaller than a year ago, 206 compared with 378. Because of the lack of job opportunities relatively few undergraduate high school students have registered.

Menasha Legion Tests Kimberly

Lenz-Gazecki Post Seeks
2nd Win Over Papermakers

Menasha Star Squads Down Title Winners

Robins Fall 18-3;
Bucks Drop 26-8
Cub League Test

Menasha — Menasha's Junior Legion will play a 5:30 game at Kimberly Wednesday in what will probably be the final test on its Fox River Valley Junior Legion league schedule.

The Menasha squad has one more makeup game on the schedule, that against state champion Fond du Lac. However, Fondy will be heading for the national regional tourney in Bismarck, N.D., later this week and it isn't likely the game will be played before then.

The Menasha nine takes a 4-3 second round record into the twilight tilt. It won its first three games but in the last four had losses to Green Bay, Kaukauna and Oshkosh and a win over Mayville.

Bows to Oshkosh
The Lenz-Gazecki post last saw action last Thursday night when it bowed to Oshkosh 15-3, as the latter scored nine times in the first inning.

Kimberly has split even in six second round encounters. It was the victim of an upset at the hands of New London 7-1 last Saturday as the latter picked up its initial win after eight straight reverses.

Menasha chalked up a 5-2 win over the Papermakers on July 7 in the first round venture against each other.

Don Jensen recorded the win although Tom Robinson worked the ninth. Jeff VanderVelden was the losing pitcher.

Defending champion St. John battles Bethel at 6 o'clock at Seventh street. A Bethel win coupled with a Trinity loss would result in a two-way tie for the title. Congregational, which draws a bye this week, has completed its schedule. Barring a playoff, tonight's games will wind up the fourth season of league play. St. John won the first three crowns.

Name Cast for Final Players' Summer Show

Paul Rasmussen is Richard in
'Ah, Wilderness!'

Neenah — The cast for the final presentation of the Riverside Players, Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!", was announced this morning by K. F. Anderson, director of the recreation department amateur group.

The play revolves around Richard Miller, a teen age boy in the "wilderness" of adolescence. Paul Rasmussen, a student at St. Olaf college, plays the bewildered Richard.

His parents, Nat and Essie Miller, are played by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis, who were seen in last summer's Riverside presentation of "The Boor" and this summer's first offering, "The 12 Pound Look."

The Miller family is rounded out with Arthur, a Yale student and Richard's older brother, played by Kenneth Brendick; Mildred, his younger sister, played by Jane Hauser, and Tommy, his much younger brother, played by Briggs Meyer.

Horace "Bud" Mann will portray Sid Davis, Essie's brother, a likeable if alcoholic reporter, and Mrs. Kit Caroy will play Lily Miller, Nat's spinster sister.

Jill Harker, familiar in Neenah High school productions, plays Muriel McComb, Richard's fair lady. Her father, is played by Tony Car-

Neenah — Twenty-four yacht clubs, members of the Inland Lakes Yachting association, will have the opportunity of being represented at the approaching ILYA regatta scheduled for Aug. 18 to 22 in Neenah.

Over 170 boats are expected to compete in the week-long sailing event for class A, E, D and C scows. Boats from each yacht club will be identified by a letter signifying the home club.

On their sails, Neenah boats use the letter "U" for identification. The letter "J" on the mainsail of a scow means that it is an Oshkosh boat.

The Oshkosh Yacht club has held the regatta on 19 occasions, more than any other club. The first time was in 1890 and the last in 1956. In 1955 the event was called off because of a polio epidemic.

State Plans New 600-Acre Game Refuge Near Lake Poygan Shore

Conservation Unit To Spend Some $25,000 on Project

Madison — Preliminary land acquisition has begun for a new public hunting grounds project in the key Lake Poygan area which is planned by the state conservation commission.

The department plans to spend some $25,000, with the assistance of federal grants-in-aid, for the acquisition of about 600 acres of marsh land near the shore of Lake Poygan.

It is in the center of the marshland that characterizes the Fox and Wolf river basins in that region and in a neighborhood which has seen considerable private development and acquisition lately, according to a justification submitted by state officials to U. S. government authorities for approval under the Pittman-Robertson wildlife habitat improvement program.

The increasing development of cottages and private hunting preserves has resulted in the curtailment of public huntable area and some reduction of the quality of the neighborhood hunting, the state officials related.

The section will provide ideal feeding and resting conditions for migratory waterfowl and should be excellent for hunting because it lies on a natural duck flyway, according to the state report.

"This area is also close to several large centers of population, and purchase will alleviate some of the pressure from the more congested areas. Purchase will aid in a better distribution of hunting pressure, provide excellent hunting throughout the waterfowl season due to the proximity of Lake Poygan as a natural refuge, and excellent public hunting grounds with a minimum of development," as the state game managers see it.

38,938 Watch Game Pirates Whip Braves, Tie for Second Place

By The Associated Press
Maybe Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates, pulling in fans and crowding the leaders, aren't just along for the ride after all in the National League pennant race.

The Bucs, usually scrapping to escape the cellar at this stage of the season, have paired pitching with a steady bat attack for a 5-game winning streak and a share of second place with San Francisco, cutting Milwaukee's lead to six games.

Friend Wins No. 13
They did it the hard way Monday night, knocking off the Braves and battering tough guy Warren Spahn, 6-4.

while reliever Elroy Face saved Bob Friend's fifteenth victory.

A crowd of 38,938 — second largest for a night game in the history of Forbes field — watched.

Friend, joining Spahn as the only NL pitchers to win 15 this season, outdueled the veteran lefty with ease before tiring in the eighth. He had the Braves blanked for seven, gave up a run in the eighth and was charged with three in the ninth.

Friend (15-12) gave up nine hits, walked three and struck out five. Spahn (15-8) was

All-Stars Name Dan Currie Co-Captain

Hill Will Lead Club Along With Bays' Top Draftee

Green Bay — The Packers received some good news from Chicago today: Dan Currie, the Packers' first draft choice, was named co-captain of the College All-Stars for their battle against the Detroit Lions in Chicago Friday night.

The other captain is King Hill the quarterback from Rice who was the Chicago Cardinals' bonus choice in the draft last January. Hill will

Packers Place Quartet Of Rookies on Waivers

Green Bay — Packer Coach Ray McLean today placed four rookie backs on waivers reducing the training camp roster to 52.

Released were: Dick Maggard of College of Idaho, John Moerchen, the specialist from Florida State who lives in Menominee, Mich., John Dubose of Texas Trinity and Howie Dare of Maryland. Maggard was the Packers' twenty-second draft pick last January and Dare, chosen as an eligible junior, was the twenty-ninth pick in 1957. Dubose and Moerchen were signed as free agents.

The camp manpower, total was expected to jump to 53 before this day is over. Due to report after completing six months of army service is veteran halfback Don McIlhenny one of four players obtained in the Tobin Rote deal with Detroit in 1957.

head the offense and Currie of Michigan State will bolster the defense as a linebacker.

Packer Coach Ray McLean will use the 245-pound Currie where he can be utilized best.

Mean Business
The 'Stars and Coach Otto Graham mean business. They scrimmaged against the Chicago Bears the other day and judging from scattered returns the Bears won, 24-7, with three touchdowns in the first few minutes.

The All-Stars hadn't scrimmaged a pro club since 1955 when the 'Stars' nicked the Browns, 30-27.

One of the six Packer rookies with the All Stars missed the Bear rough stuff. Currie was kept abed with a sore throat and a temperature. Packerses Jim Taylor, Ray Nitschke, Neil Habig, Dick Christy and Jerry Kramer tasted Bear meat for the first time.

Kramer came out with an injured knee and may miss a chance to make the starting offensive team Friday night vs. Detroit. Habig should start at center and, incidentally, he's one of the surprises of the 'Star camp. Neil was the Packers' twenty-sixth draft choice last January. His possible selection as a starter by pro-wise 'Star coaches indicates that he might be a real comer.

Good Whirl
Nitschke is due for a good whirl as a linebacker while Taylor should see plenty of action as a running back. Christy has been a flanking back.

Graham says the scrimmage was a "big help" in preparing the team for the champion Lions. In exchange for permission to tackle the Bears in practice, Lion Coach George Wilson was permitted to watch the action.

Highway Beers Drop LC-K '9' From State Tournament, 6-5

Losers Score All Their Runs On Homers

(From AP Dispatches)

Little Chute. — Kimberly rallied for three runs in the last half of the eighth inning but it wasn't enough as the Fox River Valley Amateur league team lost to Milwaukee Highway Beers, 6-5, in the Wisconsin semi-pro tournament Monday night.

LC-K got 10 hits to the Milwaukee team's six but four errors spoiled the losers' superior hitting.

Jim Vande Wetering homered for two of the LC-K runs in the sixth to shave Highway Beers' lead to 5-2. Gene Peerenboom smashed a 3-run circuit blast in the eighth.

Kort Starts

Louis Kort started for the losers and hurled until the eighth when he was relieved by Al Harke. Harvey Keller went the route for the Milwaukee club, which scored one in the fifth, four in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Two other Milwaukee teams won their quarter-final games Monday night and will join Monroe and the Highway Beers in this evening's semifinals.

Milwaukee Falk meets Monroe at 6:30 while Allen-Bradley plays the Highway Beers at 8:30.

Hurlis 1-Hitter

Arnie Campbell of Falk hurled a 1-hitter Monday night as his club whited Lannon, 10-0, in a 6-inning game. Campbell fanned eight and allowed just one walk.

Allen-Bradley ousted Hayward, 8-0, on the 4-hit pitching of Don Robert in a 9-inning game. Dick Lisecke tripled, homered and drove in two runs for the victors.

Monroe had won its quarter-final game Sunday on a forfeit. The game with Milwaukee 901 club was tied, 2-2, in the fifth inning when a downpour interrupted the action.

The Milwaukee team refused to take the field after the rain.

Mastery of Back Nine Wins for Middlecoff

Cary Shoots Tourney Record 264 To Cop $5,300 in Miller Tourney

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Milwaukee — Cary Middlecoff was at a loss today to explain his mastery of the back nine at the Tripoli Golf club, a mastery that earned him the $5,300 first prize in the $35,000, 72-hole Milwaukee Open golf tournament.

The 37-year-old former dentist from Memphis, Tenn., who now plays out of Hollywood, Fla., posted a tournament record 16-under-par 264 Monday.

Bosburg Wins $3,400

He shot a 35-32-67 in the final round on Tripoli's par 35-35-70 layout to eclipse by one stroke the tournament standard he shared with Ed Furgol.

Middlecoff won the first Milwaukee open in 1955 while Furgol won the following year, both with 255s.

Second place and $3,400 went to Bob Rosburg, 31-year-old pro from Palo Alto, Calif., who uses a baseball grip, with a 286. Bill Casper, Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., who was only one stroke behind Middlecoff on the 66th hole only to fade and be passed by Rosburg, was third with a 267. He won $2,200.

Middlecoff, in ending a personal 26-month major tournament victory drought, played Tripoli's back nine as though

Bees Edge Furlow, 2-1, In 11 Frames

BY JIM VAN HORN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Despite a last-ditch, bottom-of-the-ninth homer by John Marr and a stellar, 11-inning stint by pitcher Earl Furlow, the Fox Cities dropped an 11-inning cliffhanger to the Burlington Bees, 2-1, at Goodland field Monday night.

Burlington, which bids farewell to the Fox Cities after winning nine of 13 here, scored in the top of the eleventh and held the Foxes scoreless in the bottom of the frame after Marr's homer had tied the game and sent it into extra innings. Russ Gragg doubled to left and Don Voigt singled to right, scoring Gragg with the deciding run.

Tonight, Rene "Babe" Nardone will go after his tenth win when Three-I league leading Cedar Rapids invades Goodland field for the opener of a 3-game stand. Tonight's game is the Appleton Memorial Hospital Auxiliary booster contest, with a number of prizes to be awarded.

Earl Furlow (2-2) lost Monday night's toughie, which was only the third extra-inning game of the year for the Foxes and the second at home. May 8 the Foxes had better luck against the Bees, beating them, 11-10, in 10 innings here. Davenport stopped the Foxes, 5-4, in 11 in the only other overtime tilt.

The Bees thus won the 4-game series, 3-1, making the season's record between the two clubs 15-6 in favor of Burlington.

Furlow gave up eight hits, struck out three and walked three. His opposite number for the first nine innings, Cliff Anderson, gave up eight hits, walked one and struck out six.

Donnelly Believes
Fireman Ed Donnelly (2-0) relieved Anderson in the tenth and got credit for the win, allowing only two hits.

Before Burlington broke the ice in the eighth, the teams threatened to set marks for the shortest game of the season and the lowest-scoring. (The first nine innings lasted a mere 1 hour, 40 minutes). Russ Gragg lofted a bloop to left which fell in for a single, and scored on Don Voigt's double to left.

Previously, Burlington had

White Sox Move Into Tie for 2nd

Pierce's 7-Hitter Tops Indians; Senators Nail Red Sox, 6 to 3

By The Associated Press

Now that the big guns of his Chicago White Sox pitching staff have begun to fire, Al Lopez may yet extend his amazing record of never finishing worse than second as a manager.

Lopez hasn't much else to shoot for in his eleventh year as a skipper. His usual hopes of winning the American league pennant from the New York Yankees were junked long ago, when aces Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan and a trade-bolstered staff misfired.

Lopez was last two months ago, seven games shy of second, 14 back of the leading Yankees. Pierce, a 20-game winner in 1956 and 1957, was 4-5, Donovan was 2-7.

Squeeze Into Tie

Now the White Sox have squeezed into a second-place tie with Boston. Donovan has won six in a row and Pierce eight of 11 that climb from the cellar.

Pierce pulled the White Sox even with Boston Monday night, winning 3-1 at Cleveland while the Red Sox lost, 6-3, at Washington. It left the White Sox 15 games behind New York, however, despite Baltimore's 3-2 and 9-3 sweep over the Yankees in a day-night doubleheader.

Detroit defeated Kansas City, 3-2, in the other AL game.

Pierce (12-8) gave up seven hits, walked one and struck out seven. He had a 2-hit shutout until the seventh, when ex-teammate "Minnie" Minoza slammed his sixteenth home run. Minoza, who also doubled, was the only injun with an extra-base hit off the little southpaw.

Nellie Fox drove in one run for the Sox and scored another with a pair of doubles off Ray Narleski, now 11-10.

Two 7-Hitters

Jack Harshman and Connie

Johnson delivered a pair of seven batters as the Orioles won for the first time this season at Yankee stadium.

Harshman (9-10), carried by home runs from Bob Nieman and Joe Ginsberg, struck out nine in the opener. He had a 5-hit shutout until Bill Skowron's 2-out, 2-run pinch homer in the ninth. Art Ditmar (8-3) was the loser.

The Orioles scored five runs in the nightcap first, three unearned, off loser Johnny

Kucks (7-5) and rolled as former Yankee Gene Woodling

went 5-for-5 and drove in three runs, one with a homer.

Johnson blanked the Yanks after Mickey Mantle's 2-run, fifth-inning homer.

Mantle's 32nd

It was the Mick's thirty-second, keeping pace with Boston's

Jack Jensen and Washington's Roy Sievers for the

AL lead. Jensen and Sievers matched 2-run shots in the fourth inning, but Sievers added a winning RBI single in the fifth off loser Bill Monbouquette.

The Tigers did their scoring on a walk and four singles with two out in the fourth and

Jim Bunning (9-7) won his first since July 20 no-hitter. Hank Aquire saved it after Frank House hit a 2-run homer in the ninth. Bob

Grim was the loser.

Roy Harris' Trainer Hits Ceiling When Jenkins Is Hired as Adviser

Peace Restored After Dizzy Chain of Developments

Arrowhead Springs, Calif.—Former lightweight champion Lew Jenkins' role as adviser to heavyweight contender Roy Harris diminished almost before it got underway.

As things developed, Jenkins is still a member of the board of strategy for the big guy from Cut and Shoot, Tex., however. Peace of a sort was re-established today for Roy's crack at the champion, Floyd Patterson, in Los Angeles Monday night.

There was a slightly dizzy chain of developments Monday at Harris' training camp. It started when Roy's managerial adviser, Louis Viscusi of Houston, announced that Lew had been engaged to counsel Harris on the better use of Roy's willing right hand.

Jenkins was known as the "Sweet Swatter from Sweetwater," Texas, that is, and his best swat was a right-hand swat to the head or body.

Someone forgot to mention the appointment to Harris' veteran trainer, Bill Gore, who has been handling boxers for 30 years or more.

Gore hit the ceiling of Harris' $100-a-day bungalow at this plush resort hotel when Lew showed up to discuss right-hand punching with Roy. "I was only trying to help," said Lew, an Army master sergeant on leave from Fort Ord, Calif.

Severe Lecture

Later Gore delivered a severe lecture to visiting boxing writers, prompted when one inquired why Roy's scheduled boxing drill was called off.

"I don't want him to work," said Gore. "He's ready to fight right now."

Actually Gore was still sizzling about the Jenkins down, everyone was happy and Gore even sent word that

Jenkins could talk to Roy some more.

But as one observer pointed out, there is at least one man ready for a fight and on edge.

"Bill Gore," he said, "is ready for Patterson right now."

2 ARD All-Star Baseball Games To Be Played Sunday

Two Appleton Recreation department all-star baseball games will be played Sunday evening on the Interlake field.

At 6:30, the Cub Boys league all-stars will play Elm Tree, the Cub champion. At 8 o'clock, the Minor league all-stars will meet champion Sherry Motors.

All ARD baseball jerseys are to be returned by Wednesday, according to Director E. W. Grover.

Can't Outmuscle Lions Expect All-Stars to Play Wide-Open Game

Chicago — The College All-Stars, fully aware they cannot "outmuscle" the Detroit Lions, are expected to employ a wide-open game when the two teams clash in Soldier field Friday night.

"You can't run through these guys," says All-Star head coach Otto Graham. And Graham should know. For years he passed the Cleveland Browns to numerous professional championships.

"We'll play a wide-open game and try to win that way," added Graham. "You can't outmuscle your competition in pro football."

Satisfied with Attitude

The All-Stars will be at least 2-touchdown underdogs for this twenty-fifth annual mid-summer classic.

The All-Stars have won seven and lost 15. Two games ended in ties.

"Desire is the important thing," says Graham, who is satisfied with his team's general attitude.

"They've worked hard and have not groused."

Graham's big problem is to make a group of individuals a team in a short time and offset the advantage the professionals have in playing together and winning the National Football league championship.

The 1958 edition of the All-Stars has size, speed and a taste of what to expect. Last week, Graham and his assistants took their squad to the Chicago Bear training camp for a scrimmage. The Bears won, 24-7, but the Stars made a good showing in the second half.

Cedar Rapids never trailed in either of its important games with Green Bay. The Braves pounded out 14 hits in the opener, Bob Taylor and Larry Click clouting homers. Jack Caffery adorned his 6-hitter with nine strikeouts.

The Braves put the nightcap out of reach with a four run rally in the seventh inning. Bill Hamilton allowed 10 hits but only one run until the ninth. Cedar Rapids' Joe Trenary homered.

Tony Trullo's double drove home what proved to be the winning run in the seventh inning for Winona. Chuck Lindstrom had three hits for the Davos, who scored four times in the eighth.

Buc Fans Have Pennant Fever, But Murtaugh Remains Calm

Pittsburgh — "Goodness gracious."

The man was talking to himself as he left Forbes field Monday night. That's frequently a sign of the baseball ailment called pennant fever.

The onset is apt to be particularly violent in places where it hasn't been seen for a long time—like Pittsburgh. The Pirates had just stopped a ninth inning rally to defeat the Milwaukee Braves, 6-4, and whittle the National league lead down to six games. Pittsburgh and San Francisco are tied for second.

Pirates fans are dazzled. Pittsburgh long has been accustomed to a tail-end club.

Day by Day

However, Manager Danny Murtaugh didn't have the fever—at least not yet.

"We're not talking pennant," Murtaugh said in the clubhouse. "We'll take our games day by day. Milwaukee has a terrific ball club."

A crowd of 38,938—second largest for a night game in the history of Forbes field—roared, cheered and sweated it out with the Pirates.

One of the fans, Joe L. Brown, the club's general manager, went to the dressing room to congratulate winning pitcher Bob Friend and others. He had to wait. Bob's teammates had the same idea.

"Gee, I felt good tonight,"

Sherry's Stops Police for Title In Minor League

Sherry Motors, champions of the National division, beat Police, American division champs, 3-1, in the playoff for the Minor Boys' baseball league championship.

Police outthit Sherry's, 4-3, but Bill Ulwelling's pitching and hitting earned Sherry's its win: Ulwelling had two of his team's hits, one of them a 2-run double. The losing pitcher was Jim Griesbach.

In the finals of Cub Boys' league play, Elm Tree of the Association beat Verrier-Schmidt of the American division, 4-1, for the league crown.

Leroy Kiepie pitched a 3-hitter for the winners while loser Richard Moen gave up five hits. Earlier Elm Tree had beaten Valley Ready Mix, National division champs, 9-2. Kiepie's 2-hitter, Verrier-Schmidt had stopped SSAC, titlists in the 3-1 division, 26-0.

Redlegs and Phils Split Doubleheader

(From AP Dispatches)
Cincinnati and Philadelphia split a pair of National league games Monday.

The Redlegs won the completion of a June 1 suspended game, 12-11, in 13 innings. The Phils captured the regulation tilt, 5-4, in 10 innings.

A throwing error by losing reliever Dick Farrell enabled Frank Robinson to scoot home from first with the tie-breaking run for the Reds in the opener. The game was tied, 11-all, with Cincinnati at bat in the ninth when the Sunday curfew fell in June. Joe Nuxhall won it in relief.

A walk, fielder's choice and Willie Jones' single gave the nightcap to the Phils after Ed Bailey's 2-run homer had tied it 4-all in the ninth, not wanting them to happen again, and then opened up on the back nine. It just seemed like it belonged to me."

The 27-year-old Casper, who trailed Middlecoff by two strokes at the end of 54 holes,

Middlecoff Wins Tourney

he owned it. He finished 17-under-par there, in marked contrast to the front nine where he was 1-over.

"I can't explain it," he said, "except to say I am not a very good starter, usually. They tell me 15 of the 18 birdies I shot during the tourney were on the back nine."

Casper fires 67. "Actually," he added, "there isn't much difference between the two nines. Normally, I play back nines a little better than front nines, but the difference here was just unbelievable."

"Part of it may be traceable to a couple of sad experiences I've had on this course the last two years. I guess I was just a little bit cautious on the front nine, not wanting them to happen again, and then opened up on the back nine. It just seemed like it belonged to me."

The 27-year-old Casper, who trailed Middlecoff by two strokes at the end of 54 holes, fired a 33-34-67. A par four on the 352-yard 67th hole to Middlecoff's birdie dropped him two strokes back and he never recovered.

Tues., Aug. 12, 1958: Appleton Post-Crescent, B5, 19

Rosburg, who was five back of Middlecoff when play started Monday, caught and passed Casper on the final six holes as he shot a 4-under 31 for a 64, best round of the day.

He pulled within two strokes of Middlecoff on the 71st hole, but by then it was too late. Rosburg has pocketed more than $23,000 in official and unofficial winnings in the last three and a half months without winning a tournament.

Tie for 4th. Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., tied for fourth place with 10-under-par 270s. Each picked up $1,800.

Middlecoff's victory — his first since 1956 when he won the U.S. Open — rocketed his official earnings in 11 years as a pro to more than $250,000. It also put him in ninth place in the race for a position on the U. S. Ryder cup team, which is scheduled to play the British team next October in Atlantic City, N. J.

Well Drilling On North Side To Cost $9,799

Utility Commission Reports Work to Get Underway August 26

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna electric and water utility commission has granted the bid for drilling a new well on the north side of the city to Layne-Northwest, Milwaukee. The bid price was $9,799.18, according to William Ranquette, utility manager.

The commission received six bids for the work. The high bid was $15,042.50. The bid calls for drilling and testing of the new well after which the commission will be able to determine the capacity of the well and ascertain equipment needed and size of the building to be constructed.

Work will start on Aug. 26 and is expected to be completed within 60 days, according to Ranquette. The manager estimated the well would be 600 feet deep with a capacity of about 500 gallons of water per minute.

Well Location

The new well will be dug at Blackwell and Delanglade streets. When planning the new building to house pumping and other equipment, the structure will be made large enough to permit the installation of iron remover equipment at a later date, said the manager.

This will be the first well on the north side although there are four wells on the south side. The new well will serve a double purpose. First it is an added supply of water since the city was nearing capacity from the other wells and second it is a safety factor for the north side, said Ranquette.

Previously the north side was served by south side wells through lines crossing the bridge separating the two parts of the city. In the event of a breakdown in these lines, the north side could be faced with a water shortage while repair work was being carried out. The installation of the north side well will eliminate this danger.

The manager expects the new well to yield water of the same type which is derived from other wells but anticipates the new well might supply water with slightly less iron content although this cannot be determined until the water is found and tested.

The local chapter won the achievement award for this year with Stevens Point as runnerup. Last year the latter won the award. The achievement award is based on about 30 different categories including service to community, clippings, service to state and national headquarters, number of chorus and quartet appearances, benefits and others.

Both Kaukauna-Little Chute and Stevens Point are rated as class B in achievement competition, representing total population of under 20,000 people. These two chapters will compete to ascertain which finishes highest in points toward the achievement award for the coming year.

New Engineer Assumes Duties

Robert E. Natrop Fills Post Vacant Since May 15, 1958

Kaukauna — Robert E. Natrop has assumed duties as city engineer thus filling a city post which has been vacant since the resignation of John Stauss on May 15. Stauss left to accept a position with the city of Oakkosh.

Natrop, formerly of Kaukauna, graduated from Kaukauna High school in 1946 and after two years in the United States army entered Marquette college of engineering. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Marquette in 1952.

The new engineer worked for the bureau of street construction, expressway commission and water and sewer construction for Milwaukee until 1955 when he assumed duties as assistant city engineer in Green Bay. He was in charge of all street construction at Green Bay until he resigned to take the Kaukauna post.

Married and the father of two youngsters he will move to Kaukauna as soon as he sells his Green Bay home. He is a registered engineer and a member of Sigma Phi Delta, professional engineering society.

according to J. R. Gerrits, superintendent.

Gil Frank, basketball and track coach, and Jim Nirschl, football coach, are at the session. Heading the clinic this year are Jack Curtis of Stanford and Branch McCracken, Indiana.

Adult Library Shutdown Set All This Week

New Flooring Will Be Installed, Book Fines Suspended

Kaukauna — The adult section of the Kaukauna library will be closed all this week to permit the installation of new flooring in the upper floor of the library, according to William Sloggy, librarian.

The children's section of the library, in the basement, will continue normal operation. All books and bookshelves will be moved on the main floor to permit workmen to install the flooring as rapidly as possible. At first it was planned to do a little of the floor at a time thus permitting continued operation but the shutdown was decided to facilitate installation.

Library patrons having books come due during the shutdown period can return the volumes to the book return box in front of the library or may keep books until the library reopens on July 18. No fines will be charged against adult books which become overdue during the shutdown period.

Youth, 17, Spends Night in Jail

Little Chute — A 17 year old Little Chute youth is remaining closer to home these days after spending part of the weekend in the county jail. The youth was told by police to stay at home after it was found that he was involved in a rock throwing episode. A group of youngsters had thrown rocks off Community bridge onto a coal barge passing below.

Saturday night the police received a tip that the youngster had left home and was at a Seymour wedding dance. Village police went to the dance hall and picked up the youth, dropping him at the county jail for the night. He was released Sunday morning and ordered to stay at home until authorities complete work on the case.

Police said six boys were involved in throwing the rocks. What procedure will be taken against the youths has not been determined since the matter is in the hands of FBI and government officials.

Girl's Softball Team Eliminated In State Meet

Kaukauna opened the double elimination tourney against Dodgeville and dropped a 17 to 8 decision Friday night. Saturday afternoon the locals tangled with Oshkosh and dropped a narrow 10 to 9 decision.

Several key players in the Kaukauna attack were unable to make the Jefferson trip and injuries to two girls at the tourney were big factors in the losses, according to Miss Elaine Warnecke, team manager.

Former Kimberly Policeman Helps Solve Murder Case

Kimberly — A former Kimberly policeman, now an officer at Salinas, Calif., has been commended for his work in helping solve a murder case in that city.

Gerald F. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schmidt, 339 S. Walnut street, received a congratulatory letter from his superior, the chief of police of Salinas, and sent it home to his folks with newspaper clippings of the case.

Schmidt developed the first lead in the case through a field interrogation report he filed. An oddity was that Schmidt himself introduced the field interrogation card system in the Salinas department after using a similar setup at Kimberly.

Through the interrogation of a man in the vicinity of the murder Schmidt learned facts and made a report which later brought that man and four others into custody. All five admitted their part in the crime.

In the letter to Schmidt the chief said "It was through your alertness, while on duty, that the first lead was developed. This first lead led to the eventual arrest of all the responsible."

County Board Okays Talks For UW Center

Committee Has Power to Plan With Winnebago County

Negotiations between Outagamie and Winnebago counties to establish a University of Wisconsin extension center in the Fox Cities were approved this morning by the Outagamie county board.

A special committee, which has been studying the extension problem for several months, was empowered to confer with the Winnebago board and the UW board of regents, with the idea of erecting a permanent building.

The question of an extension center building arose earlier this year when UW officials indicated Menasha quarters — in a rented clinic building — were inadequate. Kaukauna made an attempt to have the extension located in the Outagamie County Normal school, but it cannot be used while it is a teachers' college.

The idea of a 2-county project emerged after studies indicated students were split with about 60 per cent from Outagamie and about 40 per cent from Winnebago counties.

Suggestions Offered
Recent conferences with UW officials have indicated tentative suggestions of a site between Appleton and Menasha — most likely in Winnebago county. UW officials have said they do not need a new building, only adequate quarters.

However, citizen committees from Appleton and Neenah-Menasha have talked in terms of a building containing about 39,000 square feet, with a 350-student capacity and costing between $400,000 and $500,000.

Appleton Supv. Sylvester Esler warned supervisors that in four to five years they must face the possibility of building a new home for the aged. Requests for admission to the Golden Age home in New London and the limited older peoples' section of Riverview sanatorium are increasing rapidly, he said.

Town of Kaukauna Supv. Peter Farrell, special committee member, told Esler "our future citizens are certainly as worthy of consideration as older people, possibly more so."

Judge Orders Another Hearing On Rape Charge

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh—Clifford Bechard, 21, 733 W. Spencer street, Appleton, was ordered returned to municipal court for another preliminary hearing by Circuit Judge Helmuth F. Arps Monday afternoon.

Bechard is charged with assault with intent to rape a 48-year-old Appleton woman on July 23. His attorney, Henry Hughes, on July 31 asked for another preliminary hearing, objecting that his client had been without counsel at the original hearing July 28.

When Hughes' request was denied in municipal court, he requested a change of venue to circuit court. District Attorney Jack Steinhilber said he might appeal Judge Arps' decision to the supreme court.

83 Scouts At Junior Leader Camp

Eighty-three Valley council Boy Scouts are completing a junior leader training course at Gardner Dam camps this week, according to Fred Sordahl, scout field executive.

The program is designed to teach the scouts techniques of training and leading other boys, Sordahl said.

The course covers every phase of scoutcraft. James Bannon, Moroco, Ind., is director-coordinator. Scoutmasters for the program are John Whitney and George Hrubecy, both of Neenah, and Dennis Dresang, Kimberly.

During the first week, boys were shown how to teach scouting skills. This week the trainees are at the Boulder lake wilderness camp reviewing code, axmanship, compass, first aid, nature study, swimming and life-saving.

Near the end of the session the scouts will conduct a fair and adventure trail, Sordahl said. A fish fry and graduation ceremonies will be held Friday night.

Registration also may be made during regular office hours from 8 o'clock in the morning to noon and from 1 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Monday through Thursday, and from 8 o'clock in the morning to 8 o'clock at night on Friday.

'People's Forum' Writer Given Audience by City

Officials Tell I. L. Heiberg Why 'Walk' Signals Fail as Pedestrian Controllers

A precedent-shattering meeting Monday brought together the city council's public safety committee and the writer of a letter to the Post-Crescent editor.

I. L. Heiberg, 1739 N. Superior street, the writer, criticized the city in Saturday night's "People's Forum" for failure to enforce pedestrian control laws at key intersections.

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell, City Atty. Don L. Jury, Chief of Police Walter Hendricks and Committee Chairman Ald. Thomas K. Schneider, chagrined by Heiberg's allegations, invited him to attend Monday's committee meeting.

Trouble is, Jury told Heiberg, what was written about the traffic problem is all too true. It is something which has worried the committee for some time, but a solution has been elusive, he said.

Almost Unenforceable
It's not that the police department is failing to enforce the law, but rather that the law is almost unenforceable, Jury said.

Discussion revealed these two facts:
1. The city last summer rewrote its traffic control laws to conform with revisions made earlier by the state legislature. In the process, it adopted a pedestrian control measure by citing the state statute section number in which the provisions are contained.

2. The statute requires the pedestrian to yield right-of-way only to vehicles "lawfully proceeding directly ahead on a green or 'Go' signal."

If the pedestrian started from the curb with a green or "Go" or "Walk" light in his favor, he has the right-of-way, the statute says.

Most startling, Jury said, is that pedestrians don't have to walk only on the "Walk" signal. They may walk at any time vehicles with the right-of-way are not coming.

Question of When
The difficulty in enforcement, Jury said, is determining when the pedestrian has failed to yield right-of-way. A pedestrian must halt or slow down a vehicle which is proceeding lawfully ahead, he said, to constitute failure to yield.

The problem for the policeman, he said, then becomes this question: When is a car slowing down because of the pedestrian and when for a turning movement?

Addition of "Don't Walk" to "Walk" signals is the only solution, Jury said.

Then, an ordinance can be written forbidding crossing an intersection when the "Don't Walk" signal is on, he explained.

Jury told Heiberg the committee is considering seeking money for the project at November budget sessions, but committee members later indicated they still aren't sold on the solution. Talk of making the request was put off.

Another Letter
Heiberg said he regrets inferring in his letter there was a city official ordering police not to enforce the law. The letter, he said, was written in anger, after having pedestrians pour across an intersection in front of his car when he had the green light.

"Another letter seems in order," Heiberg said.

The city in the last two years has installed "Walk" signals at 19 intersections and there are plans to put them at five more. The project so far has cost about $5,152 for materials. "Don't Walk" signals cost about $300 an intersection.

Kohler Asks to Reopen Case
Kohler, 47, The Kohler company said Monday that testimony at senate labor-management hearings has prompted the firm to ask the National Labor Relations board to reopen a case involving the firm.

Lyman Conger, chairman of the Kohler company management committee, said he filed a motion asking for the reopening of the NLRB hearing on unfair labor practice charges.

The charges had been filed against the company at the request of the United Auto Workers union, which has been on strike against the plumbingware factory here since April 5, 1954.

You think you have problems? Try on Traffic Sgt. John Gosch's for size.

People, Gosch laments, just don't know how hard it is to find good school crossing guards.

You get a good gal, fit her with a uniform, and then you've got to become a dietitian, he told the public safety committee Monday.

In the last year alone, two of his better guards outgrew not only the furnished uniform, but every other one he had on hand and had to be released, he said.

Members of the Appleton Civil Air Patrol squadron arrived at the Outagamie county airport Sunday to learn their scheduled practice search and rescue mission had been called off because of rain. They had an opportunity to participate in a real mission, however, when word came the unit was on alert to help in a search operation going on in northern Wisconsin.

The unit's communications personnel helped transmit messages for the operation.

County Offered Two More Parcels For Golf Course

The Outagamie county board today got two more offers for land for a proposed county golf course. They bring the total parcels of land so far offered to three.

Nygren Real Estate, 1119 W. Wisconsin avenue, offered 168 acres on the Wilmer F. Tiedt farm in the southwest corner of the town of Grand Chute. Carroll and Carroll, 121 N. Appleton street, offered 100 acres in the Apple Creek area, west of County Trunk E and north of Highway 41. Neither offer mentioned asking price.

Appleton Ald. Thomas K. Schneider offered the first proposal for a county course early this year and the city passed the idea along to the county. It is under study by the county's airport and parks committee.

The committee has reported the Brown county golf course, recently opened, cost $275,000 for a course, clubhouse and other recreational facilities.

The committee suggested considerable investigation be made before selection of any site, because water is a vital item for a course.

The committee has set next spring as target date for a full report to the county board.

Pace of Home Building Up Records Show

Appleton's home building pace continued an upward surge during July. Building Inspector Walter Bogan's records show.

Bogan issued 28 permits for new homes, with a total value estimated at $332,500.

This compares to 20 permits with an estimated value of $290,300 in July a year ago.

The latest monthly statistics pushed the year's total so far to 151 home permits estimated in worth at $2,048,200.

This compares to 154 permits worth about $2,328,500 at July's end, 1957.

Bogan's July report lists 113 total permits with an overall value about $395,197.50.

620 Permits
This compares to 100 permits worth about $338,560 in July, 1957.

So far this year, Bogan has issued 620 permits, same as last year, and the total estimated value is $3,818,551.00, compared to $3,308,416 last year. Helping send the 1958 7-month total over the 1957 level of value was the $616,000 permit for St. Pius church-school building.

Construction of commercial buildings and improvements continues far behind the 1957 level, with permits valued at $140,040 granted, compared to $555,497 last year.

Stocks Drift Down Slowly

Chemicals Weak as Market Has Its Quietest Period

New York (U.S.)—The stock market drifted lower early this afternoon in slower trading. Chemicals were a weak spot with loss of 1 to 2 points. Much of the list was down fractions to a point or so. There were scattered small gains.

Turnover slackened and was the quietest day in four weeks.

Some brokers said the market was due for a period of hesitation after the recent sweeping advance. In addition, caution also was prompted by the slow trend toward tighter money. The treasury reported short-term borrowing costs rose to the highest point since March on the latest issue of 91-day bills.

Now gave up about 2 points in the chemical group. Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, and Du Pont lost a point or more. This division was strong last week on investment buying.

Steels, motors, aircrafts and metals were off fractions to about a point. Oils were mostly lowered. Amerasia dropped about 2.

Chrysler, General Dynamics, Kennecott, Lorillard, Youngtown Sheet and Tube, United Aircraft, and Baltimore and Ohio were off about a point.

Other lowers included Boeing, Douglas, Jones and Laughlin, U.S. Steel, General Motors, Aluminum Ltd., Anaconda, General Electric, and Standard Oil New Jersey.

Schenley was up 1 1/2 at the opening, but later cut the gain considerably.

U.S. government bonds were up a shade.

South Votes Show Tolerance at Work

Gore, Yarborough Nominations Show Racial Liberalism Can Win

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Washington — A high sense of national responsibility and tolerance clearly is at work in the upper south. This is one of several great points emerging from the renomination in Tennessee of Sen. Albert Gore on the heels of the renomination in Texas of Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Both men are, by southern standards, dangerously liberal on the racial question. Both had been marked by the southern old guard for liquidation. Both won without abandoning unpopular convictions—and with the overwhelming endorsements of their own people.

A year ago four southern senators—Lyndon B. Johnson and Yarborough of Texas, Estes Kefauver and Gore of Tennessee—broke publicly with an 80-year-old southern tradition. They did more than consent to the first civil rights legislation since reconstruction days. They made this legislation possible — Johnson most of all, as the powerful and astute Democratic leader of the senate.

Faced Wrath
Not many men in public life have shown valor in our time. And these four faced more than the wrath of the southern traditionalists at their rear. Constantly, they were sniped at by northern liberals in both parties. These northern liberals, complaining the bill did not go far enough, cruelly harried the four, who had run all the danger, for not running yet more.

And those who most criticized these forward troops were taking no risk at all. It is not difficult to be for a "tough" civil rights bill in New York or Illinois.

Now, two of these valiant four have gone before voters of their states and have won. It is two up and two to go. (Johnson and Kefauver stand for re-election in 1960).

What Texas and Tennessee have done far more nearly expresses the upper south than what Arkansas has done in renominating Gov. Orval Faubus, who has fished in, rather than tried to calm, the ugly waters of racial strife.

But even the outcome in Arkansas does not necessarily mean the people there are absolutely unwilling to accommodate the segregation issue for all time. More nearly—though, of course, not completely—it means that they have reacted in anger to the shame and bitterness of seeing federal troops patrol their capital city.

Can Still Live
The results of Texas and Tennessee mean moderate and responsible politicians can still live in the south, given half a chance. These results suggest the advanced liberals in the north who really intend to assist the cause of racial equity will do well not to demand of these moderates acts of sacrifice amounting to instant suicide.

They suggest it is still possible to draw this country together, to bring the old south back into the United States of America upon the backs of these moderates. But the moderates—the responsible—must first of all be allowed to live in office. They have shown they can survive southern extremism, even in the wake of Faubus in Little Rock.

They cannot, however, survive southern and northern extremism running at full pitch and all at once. And this is the lesson for the future for all who really wish to reach solutions, rather than strike attitudes, in the racial issue. (Copyright, 1958)

Driver May Be Tranquil, Not Drunk

Cincinnati — That motorist whose car you saw weaving erratically may not have been drunk — just tranquilized.

That's the idea of a University of Cincinnati psychologist, Dr. Alfred Kristofferson, who has launched a study of how tranquilizer pills affect a man's ability to drive.

He said yesterday, "the question is not whether tranquilizers interfere with driving. We know they do."

"The point is, does a medical dose interfere to the extent that driving becomes dangerous?"

He hired students and others to take the tests he is conducting at the university's psychology laboratory.

They take a series of two to four 2-hour sessions on tranquilizer or alcohol or nothing.

Measuring Tests
The tests measure reaction time, steadiness and ability to steer.

Dr. Kristofferson said, "There are many kinds of tranquilizers... but it's the milder tranquilizers which are being used extensively."

"The last figure I heard said that one of 16 persons are under the effect of a tranquilizer."

"There are hundreds of thousands of people under the effects every day. This means that the chances are that every 16th car you pass is driven by a mildly-drugged person."

Dr. Kristofferson said the tests, started several months ago, will be finished next week and he hopes to have solutions, rather than strike his attitudes, in the racial issue.
